CITY HOSPITAL OPERATING ON SOUND BASIS

Practically Pays Its Own Way in 1928, Director's Report Shows

SMALL DEFICIT

Collection of Overdue Accounts Will Even Up Account, Is Belief

Marion's city hospital operated with only a slight deficit during 1928 according to a report issued by William B. Straver, city safety director and it is quite probable that the institution will show a profit when collection starts on outstanding bills.

At the close of the year the hospital accounts showed a deficit of $1,501.10 with a total of $20,177.25 outstanding, from which to collect to make up the deficit. Some of the outstanding accounts will never be collected due to death, removal and other causes, but officials feel confident that enough will be collected to make up the deficit.

Years Cash Revenue

During the year the cash revenue amounted to $10,814 while an inventory shows that supplies on hand amount to $6,005 and that a balance of $2,699 was left from the appropriation.

These two items added to the cash revenue, makes the total $40,608. Total expenses for the year including used supplies, amount to $18,234.85 making a deficit of $1,501.10.

LILACS? HONEST!

Bush in Full Bloom at Fremont Despite Ice and Snow

FREMONT, Jan. 15—A lilac bush in the yard of Mrs. W. C. Scheck here, was in full bloom today. Thirty-five blossoms were counted. Usually, a lilac bush isn't worth much space in a newspaper. That's during the spring and summer. But Jamp' the January dateline on this and you'll note that's quite an unusual occurrence.

URGE PACT BE INTERPRETED

Action by Senate Committee Seen as Only Treaty Solution

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 — An American interpretation of the Kellogg-Briand peace treaty through a report from the senate foreign relations committee today appeared to be the only possible solution for the controversy that has grown in the senate over the additional ratification of the pact.

The irreconcilables abandoning their round robin were gaining votes on both sides of the senate for the Reed resolution demanding such an interpretive report from the foreign relations committee. Unless the report is filed by agreement it appeared the senate would adopt the Reed resolution requesting it.

The trend of sentiment in the senate was unexpected and it threw considerable doubt over the ultimate outcome of the treaty fight. Where administration leaders hoped to ratify it today at the very latest, there appeared little prospect of a vote on ratification before some such report is filed.

Negotiations were being conducted today looking for a peaceful solution of the controversy. For the last week, Senator Borah, Republican, has opposed such a report, although a week ago he did agree to it. Since then Borah declared the discussion of plans to file this report with the various signatory nations has changed the situation and he said he could not accept the responsibility for wrecking the treaty negotiations.

AIRPORT ACTIVITY READY TO START

Company Official Coming This Week To Negotiate for Lease

Activity at the local airport is expected to start some time this week with the arrival of M. G. Glazier, secretary of the Sycamore Airways Co. of Sycamore.

The Sycamore company is attempting to lease enough ground at the local port to erect a hangar and to land its planes here. The company is planning a passenger and freight line between Columbus and Toledo.

Mr. Glazier will confer with the airport committee upon his arrival and in all probability the lease will be granted to the company. If the lease is acquired work on the hangar and grading the runway will be started within the next few weeks.

YOUTH TELLS PART TAKEN IN SLAYINGS

Says He Helped Northcott Murder Four Children on Farm

GREENSBORO, N. C., Jan. 15—A 19-year-old army deserter, Clarence Roberson, surrendered to police today and told them he helped Gordon Stewart Northcott, kill and mutilate four children and hide their bodies on the California chicken murder farm.

The youth said he was confessing because of conscience and because Northcott had failed to pay him a $3,000 fee he said he had been promised for his part in the crimes.

Police are holding him here for investigation. At first dubious, they were inclined to place credence in the story after hearing a long and gruesome narrative.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 15—Mathias Jarsha, 55, was burned to death here early today, when fire destroyed a little one-story cottage in which he lived.

COUNCIL HOLDS UP PROPOSED PAY INCREASE

Ordinance To Boost Women Clerk's Salaries Strikes Snag

FOUR VOTE "NO"

Measure Caught in "Economy Net" To Be Up Again at Next Meeting

Determined to carry its proposed economy program to the last ditch, city council last night refused to suspend the rules on an ordinance calling for increase in salary of three women clerks employed at city offices.

At a special meeting Friday night council unanimously passed the appropriation ordinance which provided funds for the salary increases. The ordinance last night however is necessary before the raises may become effective.

With one member absent, council was evenly divided on the question, Councilmen Wilkins, Hiller, Halderman and Good being against suspension of rules and the ultimate passing of the measure, while Councilmen Starr, Slack, Schneider and Williams were in favor of it.

Total $480

The increases are supposed to go to two clerks in the municipal court office and one in the auditor's office. The raises amount to $480 per year.

The pay increase ordinance will be up for a second reading at the next council meeting.

Two resolutions were passed at last night's meeting, one calling for the publication of the tentative assessments for paving Pennsylvania av. and Homer st. between Church and Center sts. On Pennsylvania av. the assessment will be $8.37 per lineal foot and on Homer st., $7.72. The other resolution called for the payment of $100 to Carl H. Schuttler and J. H. Smith, of Toledo, for work of appraising the property of the Marion County Telephone Co.

A petition asking for a sanitary sewer from Bellefontaine av., south to Brond st. and a sanitary and storm drain from Broad st. south to the corporation line was referred to the sewer committee.

Governor Cooper recommended the following legislation:

Repeal of the one-half percent tax increase placed two years ago upon the business of foreign insurance companies in Ohio.

Abolition of the statute providing for levying assessments upon adjoining property owners in connection with highway improvements.

Permanent Registration

SLATER GIVEN NEW LEAD IN BOY HUNT

"Pay Dirt" Struck When Woman Changes First Story

WOOSTER, Jan. 15—The possibility of a "break" in the disappearance mystery of four-year-old Melvin, Horst, Orrville, loomed here today, according to Ora Slater, Cincinnati detective who is conducting the investigation. Slater declared that a friend of Mrs. Dorothy McHenry, one of the five persons under indictment for child stealing, has changed her story, and that it may lead to the discovery of Melvin's whereabouts if he is alive.

Slater refused to divulge details, but intimated he had at last struck "pay dirt," which means something tangible in detective parlance.

Difficulties between the county prosecutor's office and Detective John Stevens, conducting the probe in Orrville, continue. It was learned today with the formal protest against the non-cooperative plan being followed in Orrville.

Marshal Foch
The Slow Mind of Man
The Standard Oil Fight
How Is It in Heaven?

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

MARSHAL FOCH is dangerously ill of heart disease at 77.

He is an able strategist, one of the great fighting Frenchmen. It was an inspiration to hear him say in a one-sentence proclamation that 'actually made the bearers flesh creep. There is nothing to do but start the armies. I conquer.'

He looked and his voice uttering that word (to here I conquer) showed a power in the brain, half Basque if French.

Marshal Foch will die a contented, appreciated man, knowing that his genius was chosen and selected by Clemenceau and Lloyd George maintained the integrity of France. He will die under a gilded dome of the Palace of the Invalides close to the tomb of Napoleon Bonaparte, greatest of all modern generals but not half as good a man as Foch and not a patriot.

THE American Philosophical Society surveys the world's intellect and will not find much improvement.

Many brains is little if any, better than it was a thousand years ago. There is no leader greater than Xenophon, no mind capable of containing the information that Aristotle possessed and to a great extent organized.

Modern writers compare with the Greeks—Homer, Euripides, Aristophanes — except perhaps Shakespeare, no artist except Michael Angelo compares with Greek sculptors.

Edison has gone on inventing, adding to seven hundred discoveries making life longer, disease less dangerous, warfare easier.

Man has changed and improved but little with himself, but has steadily added to his valuable productions, like a hen laying many eggs but never changing the same hen.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER JR. receives proxies against Colonel Stewart, head of Standard Oil of Indiana. Colonel Stewart accepts the challenge and will fight.

That interests employees of Standard Oil of Indiana owning stock in the company.

Wonder what will happen if they send proxies to John D. Rockefeller Jr. and Colonel Stewart wins the fight.

Is there an enlisted men's section in heaven? Or does that nonsense stop as the boys leave the cemetery?

AGREEMENT NEAR

Peace Terms Between Church and Italian Government Soon Ready

ROME, Jan. 15—The reported agreement settling the long conflict between the Catholic Church and the Italian state may be ready for official publication within the next month, it was learned this afternoon.

The pension of 3,225,000 gold lire, voted by the pope by the Italian parliament in May, 1871, but which was never collected, may be accepted by the Vatican as "indemnity."

Creation of the new papal state with the pope exercising temporal power, would enable the pontiff to break the self imposed exile that has been a vatican tradition for nearly 60 years. It would enable the pope to visit foreign countries, possibly the United States, if he desired.

"Light a Lucky and you'll never miss sweets that make you fat"

Constance Talmadge.

INSTEAD of eating between meals . . instead of fattening sweets...beautiful women keep youthful slenderness these days by smoking Luckies. The smartest and loveliest women of the modern stage take this means of keeping slender . . . when others nibble fattening sweets, they light a Lucky!

Lucky Strike is a delightful blend of the world's finest tobaccos. These tobaccos are toasted—a costly extra process which develops and improves the flavor. That's why Luckies are a delightful alternative for fattening sweets. That's why there's real health in Lucky Strike. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

For years this has been no secret to those men who keep fit and trim. They know that Luckies steady their nerves and do not harm their physical condition. They know that Lucky Strike is the favorite cigarette of many prominent athletes, who must keep in good shape. They respect the opinions of 20,679 physicians who maintain that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

A reasonable proportion of sugar in the diet is recommended, but the authorities are overwhelming that too many fattening sweets are harmful and that too many such are eaten by the American people. So, for moderation's sake we say:—

"REACH FOR A LUCKY INSTEAD OF A SWEET."

1918—And Now

In the present epidemic as in 1918, Vicks is proving to be the family standby in millions of homes. In spite of its external application, in the nose, throat and chest, it is also taken internally, by the spoonful, and is thus carried to the system through the stomach and also.

A PECULIARITY of Influenza is that its toxins upset the digestive system.

Too much "dosing," especially in the case of children still further disturbs the digestion, and should be avoided except on advice of a physician.

Vicks VapoRub is especially valuable because it is applied externally, and so can be used freely without upsetting the most delicate digestion.

--avoid "dosing"

FLU

How best to use Vicks VapoRub

1. As a Preventive

Several times a day, insert Vicks up the nostrils, also melt a little night and morning in a bowl of boiling water and inhale the steaming medicated vapors.

2. If a Cold Starts

If possible, go home and go to bed. Apply hot wet towels over throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. Then rub vigorously with Vicks. Spread on thickly and cover with warm flannel.

Leave the bed-covering loose, so that the vapors, released by the body-warmth, may be freely inhaled. At the same time, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice.

Repeat this treatment every four hours, eat lightly, and stay in bed until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body to throw off the cold more quickly.

3. After a Flu Attack

Physicians advise that the chief danger in this epidemic is after influenza. Then, more than ever, colds attacking the weakened system may lead to bronchitis, sinus-trouble or pneumonia. This is especially true of children or old folks.

Heed even the slightest cold as a danger signal and treat it promptly without "dosing."

40 WORKMEN START LAYING NEW TRACKS

27 Miles To Be Installed by Pennsylvania in Marion District

Work on laying of new track in the Marion district of the Pennsylvania railroad got under way yesterday a few miles south of Bucyrus. The rails had been ordered for some time but just recently arrived. About 27 miles of new track will be laid between Columbus and Bucyrus, according to present plans.

Twenty new men were hired for the work, ten from Bucyrus and 10 from this city. Counting the 20 previously hired for the work, a total of 40 workmen are busy laying the new road.

HOLD ALL-DAY MEET

GREEN CAMP, Jan. 15— Mrs. Ben Kreis was hostess to members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church Thursday at an all-day meeting. A short business session followed the dinner and the afternoon was spent sewing. Guests included Mrs. John Retterer, of Marion, and Miss Eva Dell Schwaderer, of Agosta.

Splendid Recipe To Stop A Cough That "Hangs On"

The best cough remedy that money could buy, can easily be made at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable quick acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs and chest colds, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it you will never be without it. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this home made remedy loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which usually follow the "flu", are promptly ended.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

FOR EIGHT YEARS PAIN HELD SWAY; KONJOLA TRIUMPHS

Terrible Rheumatism and Distressing Kidney Trouble Routed By Six Bottles of Konjola

MR. AUGUST BERNHART

Konjola's success is due to the fact that its 22 ingredients working singly and together, go directly to the source, the cause of the ailment. Organs are cleansed and stimulated, the system is cleared of poisons, and soon comes new health, glorious and permanent.

"For eight years I suffered from rheumatism and kidney trouble," says Mr. August Bernhart, 410 East Fifth street, Dover, Ohio. "The pains I endured were beyond words. For three eight years I could not work as the rheumatism crippled my legs. At night I had to rise as many as eight times because of my kidneys. Everyone knows how I suffered, for I have lived in Dover 20 years. Konjola was so strongly recommended that I felt that I should give it a trial. Certainly it could fail no more completely than all other medicines had. But this Konjola fooled me. In six weeks, after taking six bottles, I was completely well, with my kidneys functioning correctly and every sign of rheumatism gone. Work is a joy and no wonder, after eight tormenting years of pain and illness. And I am astounded when I think that Konjola did all this for me in six weeks."

Konjola is different than any other known remedy in this section. It contains 22 juices extracted from natural plants, which invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels to a more healthy action. The effect of this Konjola on the entire system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that has been going on for years. At the same time, many weak and rundown systems have been restored to a new state of health through this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this city have told of their experience with this new medical compound, until now, Konjola is the most highly indorsed medicine that is known in this section.

Konjola is sold in Marion at Stamp & Sams Pharmacy and by all the best druggists throughout this section.—Adv.

Features of Cooper's Message

COLUMBUS, Jan. 15 — Here are some highlights taken from Myers Y. Cooper's first message to the Ohio Legislature:

ECONOMY

"I urge upon you the imperative need for strict economy in all matters of appropriation."

"The tendency to regulate by legislation should be avoided, except when absolutely necessary for the common good.

"Only such new laws should be enacted as are absolutely necessary to meet changing social and economic conditions."

"I am confident of your ability and purpose to perform your full duty to the end that legislation may be limited to those laws which promote the common welfare."

"It is of the utmost importance that every measure which comes before this assembly, calling for additional expenditure of public funds, should be scanned with scrupulous care, and increases in appropriations should be authorized only when the needs therefore are in the interest of progress in government."

"It is my purpose so to conduct the business of government during the next two years that there will be no deficits. To do this, it is necessarily your obligation to maintain a balanced budget by confining appropriations within the revenues provided."

PUBLIC UTILITIES

"THE people are entitled to adequate service at reasonable cost and at the same time the public utilities are entitled to a fair rate on capital invested."

"The only justification that has ever been offered for the Peace law was the claim that it was necessary because of delays in the procedure in securing a final order from the (state utilities) commission. Therefore, if the delays complained of are eliminated, no reasons for the continuance of the Peace law remains."

"It is inconsistent with the contemplated purpose of utility regulation that the utility should, in the first instance, or at any other time, fix the rates. That function belongs to the utilities commission and the law should be so modified that in the future, instead of rates being primarily fixed by the utility, rates will be established after application, investigation and final order of the utilities commission."

HIGHWAYS

"EVERYONE is interested in good roads. The building of good roads and the proper maintenance of those already constructed are vital to the economic and social well-being of all our citizens."

"The ultimate goal in road construction is a serviceable highway for each citizen of our state, regardless of where he lives."

"It is manifestly unfair that a farmer or other home-owner living upon a highway (used as an artery for inter-county or inter-state commerce and traffic), should be assessed any part of the cost of building such highway."

"THERE is generally an opinion throughout the state that the existing blue sky law is unworkable and fails properly to protect the investing public."

"It is the duty of the state to discover, prevent and punish fraud and deception in the issuance and sale of securities. This can be done without unduly restricting the activities of honest men dealing in honest securities. Our present blue-sky law does not meet these demands."

CORPORATION LAWS

"OHIO is one of the greatest industrial states of the union and has a living and vital interest in the prosperity of its industries and mercantile establishments."

"It is the duty of the state to furnish its business men sound commercial laws calculated to facilitate their transactions."

"So large a proportion of the business of the state is carried on by corporations that it follows that the law of the state, providing for the creation and government of corporations, should be of a character suitable to the needs of the business men of the state."

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE

"THE administration of criminal justice is one of the highest functions of government and of the greatest concern to the people of the state."

"In a time when serious crime is prevalent, it is well that the courts and authorities having to do with the enforcement of the criminal laws should be unhampered by antiquated procedure, in order that there may be more speedy punishment of the guilty, and equal speedy vindication of those who may be wrongfully accused."

"THE will of the people can be expressed in no other way than by the ballot. That ballot should be faithfully and honestly recorded and in a way that will be convenient for the people. The most important safeguard of democracy is an assurance of honest elections."

"Let the people once realize that the expression of their will at the election is not honestly recorded and their faith in the fundamentals of government will be destroyed."

CONSERVATION

"FOR a number of years it has been evident that we have been wasting great natural resources, inherited blessings, without regard to the responsibility which we owe to succeeding generations."

"Little regard has been given to the protection and propagation of wild life. Our forests have been ruthlessly destroyed without any attempt at replacement."

"There has been stream pollution, resulting in great destruction of fish and in menacing the health of the people. There is an utter lack of program for the development of a state park system."

Policyholders Pay $80,000,000 .. in .. Special Taxes

You Share in This Bill

THE users of insurance in the United States are indirectly but actually burdened with a vast sum—approximately $80,000,000.00 annually—by taxes additional to the regular taxes paid by insurance in common with other lines of industry. This money is a burden upon the premium of the policyholder, even though it is collected from the insurer.

The original purpose of these additional taxes upon insurance was to maintain state supervision of the business, but such supervision uses but four cents of each dollar, and the balance—about $77,000,000.00—is an additional burden upon you, Mr. Policyholder, that goes into the general state treasuries.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has adopted the following resolution:

> "..... Special State Taxes now levied on Policy holders through insurance companies should not be considered as a source of general revenue, but should be reduced to the total in each state which will adequately support such state's departmental supervision ....."

The Stock Fire Insurance Companies (which transact by far the greater portion of the fire insurance business of the country) want you to realize this condition and its effect upon the cost of your fire insurance.

Five Important Projects in Legislative Program Are Backed by Cookston

Marion County Representative Expects To Support Plan for State Police, Office Building, Welfare Extension, Election Law Change and Criminal Code

Ohio's general assembly now in session has five problems of major importance in which Horace W. Cookston, Marion county representative, is especially interested.

In a recent interview with a representative of The Star, Mr Cookston stated that these five problems will receive his support provided satisfactory details are included in the bills when they come to the law makers for vote

The organization of a state police, the erection of a state office building recodification of the state criminal code, a building program for state welfare and penal institutions, and a modification of the state election laws are the five problems in which Mr Cookston is especially interested

Favors Constabulary

Mr Cookston favors a state constabulary as a means of deterring crime and preventing the rapid escape of criminals in high powered automobiles from the scene of their crimes. A bill for the roganization of a state police force has been introduced into the legislature by interests backed by the Ohio grange organization.

As yet Mr Cookston has evolved no plan along which a state police force might be organized. However, he does not favor the plan, suggested in some quarters, of utilizing National Guard units for this purpose

Mr Cookston regards the proposed recodification of the state criminal code as one of the important tasks of the present legislature The recodification is being backed by the Ohio Bar association

Blames Realty Dealers

Columbus real estate interests are blamed by Mr. Cookston for the failure in the past of legislation for the proposed state office building to go through the general assembly Overcrowded conditions in present quarters of state departments and offices can be remedied only by the erection of additional offices, Mr Cookston states.

In discussing the building program for state welfare and penal institutions Lone Cookston pointed to the overcrowded conditions in these institutions at present. Huge numbers, on the waiting list for admittance to welfare institutions can be cared for only by providing additional space. Penal institutions are said to be overcrowded and conditions are gradually growing worse. Mr. Cookston advocated a building program to be started soon and extend over a period of years to correct present conditions as well as care for future needs.

The Marion county legislator has been placed on the committee on welfare and penal institutions and is especially interested in this work. His other committee appointments are on taxation and banking.

"Dream of Love," with Joan Crawford, Nils Asther, Aileen Pringle, Warner Oland, Carmel Myers; vaudeville, at the Palace through Wednesday.

MARK an X in front of the Palace bill this first half, for it's OK Romantic picture, not a great picture, but a pleasing picture, and the vaudeville stands up with the best that has been offered.

JOAN CRAWFORD takes a seat a little farther back in "Dream of Love" than usual. Seems to be letting Nils Asther get into the limelight Maybe Nils is to be made into another film Romeo, despite the "talkies" and Nils' Swedish accent.

Cast in this picture seems more than sufficient—Crawford, wandering gypsy actress; Asther the prince who became king of Kuremmie after a revolution that snatched him from the firing squad; Oland the dictator, Pringle his wife attracted to the prince, and Myers the vamp.

THE story reveals the kingdom of Kuremmie under the firm grip of a dictator who has ousted the royal family, despite the pleadings of the people for the return of a kingly rule. And the prince meets the gypsy girl. And years later he finds her. Plug the aforesaid revolution, etc.

It's great appeal for the flappers and woman audience, particularly

THE Briants have an act that must be done by the Briants to be good. "Dream of a Moving Man," they call it. One of the pair of them does Leon Errol falls all over the stage and proves the law of gravity

The Mathews Trios start the bill with harmony singing that you'll like—the baby voice kind. Then, the young fellow and one of the girls do a burly-one of an Apache dance—delightfully roughouse.

Dalton and Craig grow on you Slow at first, but they warm up with a lot of wisecrax that make you like them.

Six-Inch Fall of Snow in Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan 15—With the city blanketed under a fresh six-inch fall of snow, Chicago's weather forecast was still "bearish" today.

"Another cold wave sending the mercury back to five below," was the substance of the bad news from the federal building The forecast, however, was not altogether cheerless.

"Tomorrow generally fair with rising temperature," the report concluded

Meanwhile Chicago had a force of 1,000 men clearing the streets and sidewalks of the heavy snow. Traffic was demoralized yesterday and last night. Six deaths had been reported

ECONOMY IS URGED IN FIRST MESSAGE

Governor Makes His Initial Appearance Before State Legislature

portunities for fraud, send our citizens much inconvenience and, at the same time, lower the cost of elections"

Urging a new office building, Governor Cooper recommended that the structure be built on a "convenient location" and that it be "suitable to the needs of the various departments of state government."

In the enactment of a "blue sky" act, the governor favored a proposed law said to be indorsed by the Ohio State Bar Association, the Investment Bankers' Association and Better Business Bureaus.

Advises Consideration

He advised the solons to give careful consideration to proposed amendments to the general corporation act prepared by attorneys cooperating with a committee of the Ohio State Bar Association.

The governor, also, urged the enactment of a system of criminal procedure which would have for its object the making more certain and clear the apprehension and punishment of wrongdoers, and the vindication of innocent persons wrongfully accused simplifying and expediting the conduct of criminal trials and assuring that substantial justice shall be achieved.

Dealing with the subject of economy, Governor Cooper said:

"The time has come when those entrusted with the responsibility of legislative enactments and administrations of public affairs must hold rigidly to a program curtailing public expenditures, which are out of proportion to the benefits received. To accomplish this, we must endeavor through a broad spirit of cooperation, to produce at one and the same time efficiency and economy in the public service.

Harmony Necessary

"Such harmonious procedure is absolutely necessary in order that the constantly expanding needs of government, by reason of the growth in population and the increasing demands of our people for the extension of governmental activities, may be met without unduly increasing tax burdens"

Pointing out that the cost of state government in Ohio increased from approximately $11,000,000 in 1923 to about $60,000,000 last year, and that the state spent about $94,000,000 in 1927 and 1928, Governor Cooper declared that 'it is to be expected that the total cost of our state government for the next two years will exceed the total cost therof for the past two years."

"While Ohio (insurance) companies are, apparently, exempted, the tax falls with almost double force upon our Ohio companies under retaliatory laws in other states," the governor explained while requesting a reduction of the state tax on foreign insurance companies.

Requesting repeal of the Pence act, Governor Cooper said, in part: "In order to cure the abuses growing out of the operation of the Pence law, and to facilitate the speedy determination of all questions relating to rates, I recommend, first, the repeal of the Pence law, second, the adoption of a constructive measure creating within the (state utilities) commission itself a division which will speed up the presentation of facts and evidence and result in an early hearing and prompt determination and third, that no increase in rates shall go into effect until the need for such increase has been determined after a hearing and finding by the commission."

Considers Secondary Roads

Discussing highway improvements, the governor said: "The secondary roads of the state, known as the county road system, comprising over 23,000 miles of the most important highways, other than state roads, deserve all possible consideration. The county roads are the feeders to the state roads and go back into every rural section. Improvement of these roads is less expensive than the improvement of the more heavily-traveled state roads, and our rural communities will be helped greatly by their improvement."

"There is a complete unanimity of opinion among purchasers of securities, dealers in securities, and all other persons who have given the matter any thought, that we need the enactment of a sound, reasonable, workable blue-sky law that will enable the state to perform its duties in connection with the issuance and sale of securities," said the governor.

"The ballot box must be kept inviolate and our election laws should be amended so as to safeguard its integrity. The will of freemen is expressed through the ballot box and that will, must and shall be correctly interpreted and recorded"

Another Fine Actor Gone.

Death has drawn heavily upon the American stage in comparatively recent months. Robert B. Mantell, Holbrook Blinn and Leo Ditrichstein, all of whom had attained eminence as stage favorites, were taken almost together. Then came the death of Theodore Roberts, veteran of the stage and screen alike. Early in the past week, Marc McDermott, who, like Roberts, was as well known under the klieg as behind the footlights, breathed his last. Later on in the week, the wires recorded the death of Wallace Eddinger, and last Friday Timothy Murphy answered the last call.

Of the trio taken last week, Tim Murphy was easily the foremost in ability, as Marion playgoers have good reason to know after witnessing his superb portrayal in "Old Innocence," another name for "A Pair of Spectacles," in which the eminent British actor, Sir John Hare, attained fame. He supported Mrs. Fiske in two of her greatest successes, but it was during the years that he headed his own company that he reached the zenith of his fame. "The Carpet Bagger" being almost as enthusiastically received as "Old Innocence."

Tim Murphy gave up the stage three years ago, following the death of his wife, Dorothy Sherrod Murphy, for whom he grieved up to the time of his death.

Timothy Murphy was a native of Vermont and an adopted son of Texas. He began his stage career at twenty-one at Tony Pastor's theater in New York City. In making his first contract, he insisted that he be not asked to take an Irish part. With his name, he held, having taken such a part, he would never be permitted to take other than Irish parts, and during the forty-three years he gave the stage his best endeavors he never departed from the condition which marked his first engagement.

The Earliest Modern Man.

From Nairobi comes announcement of a discovery of the utmost interest and importance alike to the scientific world—that of the finding of what is held to be a practically perfect specimen of the earliest modern man—made by the East African Archaeological expedition, which has been searching for prehistoric remains in a great cave in the El Mentelta area of Kenya colony in Africa. If the announcement is correct, it means that present-day man has come very close to the cradle of mankind.

The specimen, which has been removed in its entirety with the surrounding earth, is practically perfect save for a pickax hole in the skull. It was found in a sitting position with the knees up under the chin, under thirteen time layers, which, with the one in which the specimen was found, tell the story of mankind from the earliest prehistoric times up to the present occupation by the black natives, the conditions near the cave being ideal for the preservation of geological deposits showing the relations of succeeding climatic conditions. The specimen is said, beyond all doubt, to date back to the early second African plurial period, which it is explained, was when Europe was still frozen under glacial ice extending as far south as the River Thames and on further south into Central Germany and Russia.

It is further explained that specimens corresponding to the one just found by the East African expedition are traceable in Europe only at a much later date as shown by the European time layers.

The excavating is still being carried on in the hope of finding a specimen or specimens in a strata marking a still earlier period, but whether or no success crowns the continued effort, the skeleton found goes to indicate that the cradle of mankind was in Africa and not in Asia as heretofore very generally held.

Good Work by Police.

The police department is entitled to credit for the manner in which it has run down the perpetrators of a number of burglaries of local stores. Of six youths apprehended, four have been bound over to the grand jury, one has been sentenced to the Mansfield reformatory by the juvenile court and the sixth turned over to the same court for a hearing. In these cases the police department has manifested splendid initiative and made out cases so strong that those apprehended are reported by the authorities to have signed confessions, possibly figuring that to be the best course, under the circumstances, they can follow.

We have not hesitated in the past to call attention to matters in which we have felt that the police department has been at fault. We are just as free to hold it up for commendation when its work merits the commendation of the public, as we believe it does in the present matter.

And we will say, in this connection, that it gives us pleasure at any and all times to call attention to good work on the part of those in public employment. It would please us greatly to be able to do more of it. There is always more pleasure to be had out of commendation than criticism. We say this despite the fact that it may be hard for those criticized to believe it.

Rapid Fat Reduction a Menace.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

In the course of a year thousands of letters come to my desk asking about weight reduction. Nobody wants to be fat. Everybody who is fleshy wants to know how to reduce.

For a good many years I have been watching the efforts at and the effects of fat reduction. As a result certain convictions have been taking form in my mind. Perhaps you will be interested in some of them.

There can be no doubt that there are disadvantages to overweight. It is not alone because of the appearance of the victim, but because of its effects upon health, that we disapprove of surplus flesh.

Many times I have reviewed the testimony of a committee of experts who studied the records of several large insurance companies. These men reached the conclusion that overweight was a distinct menace to health. At the end of their survey they stated, among other things, that a man fifty years of age who is fifty pounds overweight has lessened his expectation of life by at least fifty per cent.

Fat is not laid on the outside of the body as plaster is laid on the walls of a house. On the contrary, it is distributed throughout the body, involving all the organs and structures of the body. The fat may replace in part the muscles of the heart. It may choke the kidneys and liver. It may interfere with and weaken all the functions.

With this picture in mind, you can appreciate its bad effects. It will be seen without further argument that health and vigor will suffer if fat is permitted to accumulate and produce such effects. It is clear that it is your duty to yourself to avoid this evil.

But what about the person, particularly the woman, who has taken on a lot of surplus fat and has suffered from overweight for years? What should she do?

The abdominal organs, notably the stomach and intestines, and the pelvic organs, particularly the uterus, require certain supports. Nature has provided this in the ligaments and other devices planned for the very purpose of holding them in place.

If fat is deposited in the tissues in large quantities the localized accumulations of this substance serve as additional supports to the organs. Indeed, the fat may take from the anatomical structure intended to carry the weight of these organs a large percentage of their work. In consequence, the ligaments and natural supporting devices may lose tone and strength.

In a case of this sort the rapid withdrawal of the accumulated fat may take away the support upon which the body has come to rely. In consequence, the organs drop and may be materially displaced by the removal of the abnormal props.

My warning to fleshy people who have endured their overweight for years is to be extremely deliberate in fat reduction. It is dangerous to go too fast. Dropping—"prolapse," the doctors call it—may be produced if the fat is withdrawn. The fat might better be endured for health's sake than to be dissolved too speedily for the sake of appearances.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

N. J. Q—I have what is called an arrested case of tuberculosis, no cough, no germs in sputum, no fever. A hemorrhage six months ago gave warning and I have taken precautions ever since. I experience a rattling in the chest at night and my temperature goes up on slightest exertion—what would you advise?

A—Have your doctor examine you again—be sure not to overexert in any way and have all the rest and fresh air possible.

S. L. C. Q—What would cause an eight-months-old baby's hands to swell and become hard. Would this be due to the face that he keeps his hands uncovered at night and is subject to constipation?

2—What can be done for the latter condition in a baby. Would it be wise to give him fruit juices?

A—Should have an examination of the kidneys. The fact that he is constipated may have a bearing on the condition, but would not be the actual cause.

2—See that he has fresh vegetables and fruits as well as their juices in his diet. Prune, orange juice or a little apple sauce would all be suitable, given in small quantity.

M. W. Q—What can I do for oily hair?

2—After a night's sleep I am still sleepy and find it difficult to keep awake during the day. What is the reason for this?

A—This requires special treatment. A tonic should be used several times during the week and immediately after shampooing the hair.

2—You may be troubled with autointoxication. If you will send a self-addressed stamped envelope—further particulars will be sent to you.—Copyright, 1929, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Editorial Opinion.

AMNESTY.

The new president of the Mexican republic announces his determination to wipe the slate clean of revolutionary activity by giving every rebel a chance to begin life anew.

President Portes Gil declares it to be his belief that reformation is better than punishment. He has decided to help the rebels return to a law-abiding life by providing them with land at the government's expense, and facilities in the shape of farm implements and seed for working the soil.

In addition the rebels will be paid for all arms, ammunition and horses they may turn over to any army encampment or military authority throughout the republic.

Compliance with the proposals of the president will assure to any rebel an unconditional pardon.

Many heads of government in the history of the world have sought to buy off opposition or to end formidable situations of hostility in this way. President Gil's movement will be watched with interest. He may succeed, but success here is doubtful.

It is a striking innovation, this proposal of Gil's, so far as Mexico is concerned. Never before has such a sweeping bid been made to revolutionists to return to the condition of ordered society and assist a leader of his people in the upbuilding of the country.

It is said that already many applications have been received from rebel leaders offering to surrender under the terms proposed. Let it be hoped that there may be a flood of such surrenders, to the end that the president's dream may come true—"The reconstruction of Mexico is imperative for its future welfare, and it needs the help and cooperation of every inhabitant, irrespective of creed or party affiliations." So dreams the president.

It would be an achievement worthy of the most distinguished character of statesmanship could this wonderful land be redeemed as a worthy and dependable unit in the world's association of orderly nations. The world sincerely wishes luck to the Mexican chief of state and his efforts in the interests of his country.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

GERMANY AND THE ALLIES.

Germany can justify her request for an early evacuation of the Rhineland on the ground that she has fulfilled her part of the contract made at Versailles. That her officials are wise in referring to the tardiness of the Allies in granting this request is another question. The period during which she agreed that they might hold certain areas within her borders has several years yet to run; and if her former enemies withdraw their forces of occupation before the end of that period it will be because they are convinced that Germany has lived up to her bargain, which is by no means the same thing as Germany's being convinced of it.

At the same time, Germany has earned, if not compassionate, at least fair treatment in this connection. The Germany that came out of the war is a very different Germany from the one that went into it in 1914 singing the battle hymn of militarism. Once they were free from the incubus of the imperial tradition, Germans set about rebuilding their fallen fortunes on a democratic basis; and in both the political and the industrial field they have set an enlightened example, which the world would be nearer to peace and harmony today if more European countries followed. Above all, they have made an honest effort to meet their financial obligations arising from the World war.

Attempting to keep the shackles of occupation on such a people, with no higher motive than to impede their economic recovery for the benefit of less industrious nations, would menace the future peace of Europe. The Allies can not be so blind as not to see potentialities for good or evil that lie in the decision they are called upon to make. They can't get blood out of a stone by keeping foreign uniforms on German streets. Whereas they can shorten the period of occupation, without endangering their legitimate interests; and by that friendly gesture strengthen the belief, not only in Germany but throughout the world, that they have outgrown the spirit of revenge, which for so many ages made new wars the progeny of old ones.—Detroit Free Press.

The biggest gambler the Rialto has ever known is Florenz Ziegfeld. His profligacy in production is one of the theatrical legends and the despair of his backers. With a glum scowl, he has frequently discarded skits in the Follies that cost him enough to back an average show. In the 1923 Follies he had three carloads of scenery he never used. He vacillates all over the lot—then lands on his feet. Few recall Ziegfeld quit the theater for good in 1904. Making a snug fortune, he spent three years in Europe having a good time, chiefly at Monte Carlo tables. He returned to Broadway flat broke. Today he lives more extravagantly than any of the millionaires. His cigars cost two dollars each and aside from an imported British valet, he has a personal physician, masseur and chiropodist. And even at that he won't laugh.

What Is a Comet?

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS.

What home-bodies, what little provincials we must seem to a great traveller like a comet, who sees all the worlds, and sees them gazing at him, and finds none worth stopping for!

We have already furnished one definition of a comet—it is a wanderer among the planets that has rendezvous with the sun. Yet it must be wary of going too near the sun; some that have done so have suffered for it. To the comet planets seem galley slaves, circling prisoners, in their almost unchanging rounds, while it gayly and freely crosses their path and flings out its splendid 16,000,000-mile tail as if to astonish or mock them or make them afraid—and the last it often does.

This animistic view of comets prevailed for thousands of years, before astronomy took the place of astrology. Even Kepler, it has been written, "seems to have been more than half disposed to consider them as living beings, traveling through space with will and purpose."

But what definition does science give? This is the substance of it: Comets are swarms of probably solid particles, mostly very small, like marbles in size, mingled perhaps with dust and gases, and scattered so widely that their mean density per cubic mile is but a minute fraction of that of our atmosphere. But there may be, in some comets, much larger particles, though always the density of the swarm as a whole is slight.

Such a swarm constitutes the comet's "head" or "coma," which includes about all there is of the comet, since the tail is of tenuity almost inconceivable. In the center of the head there is usually a small nucleus more dense than the coma, but still probably never a single, solid mass.

The diameter of the heads of large comets averages about 80,000 miles; that of their nuclei is but a few hundred miles. The comets all travel around the sun, like the planets, but their orbits, though conic section curves, differ from those of the planets in eccentricity and in position. They are not confined near the plane of the planetary orbits, but are inclined to it in various angles, and many of the comets travel around the sun in a direction opposite to that common to all the planets.

As a comet approaches the sun, or the turning point of its orbit near the sun, its head begins to be agitated by forces excited by the sun, which cause the coma to expand, while spots or fountains of brilliant shining matter are emitted on the side toward the sun, and then curved backward, as if driven by a great wind, to form a tail of many millions of miles in length, which streams out away from the sun and in a direction backward with reference to the comet's advance in its orbit.

It is believed that the tail consists mainly of fine particles, not more than a hundred-thousandth of an inch in diameter, which are driven away in opposition to the sun's gravitation by the pressure of the light-waves from the sun, so that the sun has a double action upon the comet, drawing it ahead in its orbit by gravitational attraction, but at the same time driving off the minute particles that emanate from its head.

There are at least two instances known—one in 1861, the other in 1910—when the tail of a comet swept over the earth. On each occasion luminous phenomena were remarked, but no physical effect was produced upon the earth, or upon its atmosphere, or upon its inhabitants. There are reasons to believe that in the aeons of the past comets have occasionally hit the earth with their heads, but what the effect of such a collision must be left to conjecture. Only in case the comet consisted of particles of large mass is it likely that any serious damage would be done. It has been calculated that the nucleus of a comet should hit the earth about once in an average interval of 80,000,000 years! Let us not be afraid. — Copyright, 1929, International Feature Service, Inc.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

A woman by the name of Elizabeth Marbury said the other day: "I never crab about anything. It is very, very futile." Of course there are many fine, philosophical reasons why we should not "carry a grouch" or crab about things, but this simple reason is a good one, and sufficient. What's the use? One the most selfish grounds, it's very, very futile.

It has been said that "an artist has nothing to say until he has painted 10,000 pictures." Few of us are artists, but the application of the suggestion is just as good. Most of us are quick to give our opinion about almost anything. With the least bit of experience we set ourselves up for authorities. This is coming to be a very highly competitive world and we had better stay out of things that we are not prepared for. When we have painted 10,000 pictures we have some right to speak. Until then we might better look and listen.

In 100 years from today it is not probable that a single person now alive will be playing any part in the affairs of this world. And yet we expect the world to be run much better than it is now. One hundred years is but a moment as time is measured over the long run. With that thought seriously in mind, how important it becomes that we give every bit of our best effort to helping today's boys and girls to be better men and women than we are. We shall presently all be out of the picture. But we have a great deal to say as to how things are going to be carried on in the long, long, future.

Contact is one of the most important words in the language. Contact is the basis of the best in education. Education filters through personality. Contact of a pupil with the right personality may mean that a light will steal upon him, faintly but steadily as the dawn. Or one day it may illuminate him like the white light of the Damascus road. His soul is set aglow by the candle of another life, and he becomes something that he never was before. And he will never be the same again.

The residence of John Sloan, a quarter of a mile south of Hepburn, was destroyed by fire.

The basket-ball season was opened at the Y. M. C. A. building, Marion defeating Mansfield, twenty-eight to twenty-five.

The Handkerchief Method to Stop Coughs and Colds

Medical science has made great strides in recent years toward a complete understanding of common coughs and colds which keep so many of us stuffed-up, feverish, weak, miserable and half-efficient a large part of the time.

As a result of this study and research a marvelous little discovery has just been put on the market, and many all over this section are now carrying it on their handkerchiefs. "Aromo," as this simple invention is known to the drug trade, is an aromatic liquid which vaporizes as you breathe it and goes directly to the affected air passages, clearing them up almost like magic and soothing away all irritation and inflammation. It acts directly. That's why it brings such quick relief. No waiting for tablets or powders to be absorbed by the system.

In the few weeks since it was decided to introduce "Aromo" generally throughout this part of the country, thousands of men and women have become enthusiastic in their praise of the quick, sure way it relieves sufferers from "smokers' throat," head colds, bronchial colds, nasal catarrh, husky voice, and headaches from any cause. "Aromo" is highly concentrated, so a few drops on your handkerchief, handy to breathe in through nose and mouth, will last you all day. Or you can easily carry the handy, 20c vial in purse or pocket. All drug stores recommend and guarantee it.—Adv.

It's Not Our Ads
nor the bright colors on our billboards that makes you attend the Palace Theatre.

It's Knowing that at the Palace you will see day after day, week after week; good, clean wholesome entertainment presented in a way that the trifles make perfection and perfection is no trifle.

For Instance
on the current Vaudeville bill at the Palace, two acts came direct to Marion from the Harris Theatre in Pittsburgh, Pa. The other from the Palace Theatre in Chicago. On the screen is seen Joan Crawford's very latest, "Dream of Love." A colorful picture.

And Next Week
the Palace plays day and date with Cleveland, Detroit, and New York, Ramon Novarro's latest, a thrilling picture, "Flying Fleet." You know what to expect here.

So Just Any Time
for your amusement pick up any city newspaper, look what the theatres are playing, and you will soon see the Palace in Marion is playing day and date with the cities.

And Too
notice the Vaudeville names that are playing Cleveland, Columbus, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Chicago, New York, and again you will see the same names are playing the Palace or have played it.

Why Do They Play Marion?
Because the Palace Theatre is affiliated with the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Vaudeville circuit, the same circuit playing the big cities. The Palace is affiliated with this circuit because we are trying to give Marion the best in entertainment, the same you would see in a Metropolitan Theatre.

Why Can the Palace
get these acts? Because when we opened this theatre we promised you the best, and we are paying for the best to bring it to Marion. Another reason why we can give Marion the best acts, is that the acts can afford to play Marion due to its splendid topographical railroad center between the big cities the acts play.

These are some of the Trifles at the Palace Theatre that go to make perfection in entertainment, and where Perfection is no Trifle.

Noted Musicians Booked to Play in Recital Here

Estella Gray-Lherinie and son Laddie Gray, reputed as international musicians of unusual talent on the violin and piano, will be brought to this city April 23 under the auspices of the teachers and pupils of Central Junior high school, it was announced today by W. E. Orcutt, principal.

Gray-Lherinne receives as high as $2,000 for one performance, but through the efforts of the state department of education she has agreed to give three weeks each spring and fall to the school pupils of Ohio, giving them an opportunity to become acquainted with the best music composed and to know and hear a real artist, at a comparatively small admission price.

Her son, Laddie Gray, is an exceptionally talented boy of eight years of age. At the present time he is in the sixth grade in school. His part in the program will be the presenting of piano compositions by the greatest writers of music. The works of Mozart are listed in his repertoire.

Gray-Lherinne has made four appearances in Galion musical circles. It is the hope of those in charge that it will be possible for them to present mother and son at a low rate so attractive that every school child and adult may attend the matinee and evening concert.

The VANGUARD
By Arnold Bennett

... the spirit must ... not the style nor the ... the latter, but simply ... The Vanguard be... ... man not a limited com... ... of 15,000,000 lb. ... had no qualms about ... of such a quantity ... of wealth in the hands of a single individual, for they knew and felt that just as every soldier of Napoleon had a field marshal's baton in his knapsack, so every American citizen has a ...,000-ton yacht in his capacious hip pocket. But in the pockets of certain humble Britons were concealed misgivings as to whether all was for the best in the best of all possible worlds. These faint hearted persons thought of the droves of unemployed in the streets and slums of their industrial towns, they even thought of the perspiring, rebellious kitchen serfs of the Splendide desperately risking a livelihood to snatch perhaps an extra four pence-halfpenny from the Splendides managerial till, while Count Veruda, owner of the Vanguard, spent as much on petrol in a month as would have kept seven Neapolitan families for seven years. However, as sherry followed cocktails and champagne followed sherry and port followed champagne and chartreuse followed port, these crude sociological qualms vanished away, together with the sense of being morally crushed.

A golden mist spread in the saloon and through it gleamed the bright truth that everything positively was for the best in the best of all possible worlds. As of course, it is.

Meanwhile Count Veruda with the chief steward behind him was modestly treading—and not without success—to look as though he were not the owner of the gorgeous Vanguard and a multi millionaire. Indeed he wore his wealth most unpompously, it was apparently naught to him.

Then a faint vibration made itself felt in the yacht, and particularly in every part of the dining saloon. The vibration grew in strength. And straightway the more alert spirits in the company began preposterously to suspect that Count Verdun was not all that he seemed to be, that he was indeed a perfidious and cannula, pirate, and that the yachts engines were being made to revolve as the first action in a plot to abduct the entire body of guests and hold them to ransom for incredible amounts in some distant inhospitable isle hither to uncharted on Mediterranean maps.

Dismay sat on the faces of several. The dismay spread. Glasses were no longer raised. Gratitude vanished from the hearts of the entertained. The nervous imaginative could feel the heaving of the yacht at sea.

"That is the dynamo," said Count Veruda silently laughing. "I expect we're using rather more electricity than usual and the chief engineer wishes to be on the safe side."

But a few of the wary and the timid were not quite reassured. An old lady on Mr Sutherland's left trembulously murmured something in his ear. Mr Sutherland gently smiling tranquilized her ridiculous fears with a word.

"The yacht cannot be moving," said he. "She must have had an anchor down, if not two, and in a comparatively small ship like this the anchor could not possibly have been raised without our hearing the noise of the chain." Still the old lady was not quite at her ease, and spoke again. Mr Sutherland forgave her tedious insistence because he knew what old ladies were always had been and always would be. And not old ladies only.

A white screen was at this point let down on the after wall of the dining saloon, and Count Veruda unassumingly announced,

"I now propose, with your permission, to show you the new Valentino film. It has been seen in London and, I think, in Paris. But nowhere else. The whirr of cinema apparatus seemed to put an end to the vibration caused by the dynamos. The dining saloon suddenly became dark. The effect was highly disconcerting. The unrolling of the reel started.

I hate films," said Mr Sutherland quietly to the dark young lady who, in the hotel had expressed doubt as to the authenticity of the count's title. Mr Sutherland had contrived that she should be on his right.

So do I," the young woman replied.

Mr Sutherland greatly dared.

Shall we creep out and explore the yacht a bit?"

He trembled lest she should refuse the audacious suggestion.

Let's," said she.

Mr Sutherland thrilled in anticipation of joy in the exclusive possession of her companionship.

The darkness hid their furtive departure from the eye of the host. They passed through the lounge into which the dining saloon opened, and so to the deck.

"Harriet Perkins"

They climbed up one story and leaned speculatively side by side against the rail of the main deck. The boat deck with the bridge and the captain's quarters, was above them. The warm Neapolitan gloom relieved now by only a lamp or so at the ends of the long deck, wrapped them softly round about. Not an officer not a deckhand to be seen. And nothing to be heard save the faint murmur of vibration ascending monotonously from the depths of the ship. A shiver of mystery enfolded in the magic influences of the universal enigma—and those banal idiots were all sweltering in a room downstairs, watching a film!

An Unusual Romance of Love and Sacrifice

CHAPTER 66

"BUT I'm her mother!" Adeline was telling the manager. 'Miss Garrety might not of told you I was comin', because she wasn't just exactly expectin' me. I'm thinkin' of makin' my home with her for a while. Yes, there's nothing like your own flesh and blood. I always say, a girl has no friend like her mother. I'll just go right in and make myself at home. Maybe I'll do a little cleaning up while she's gone and get rid of some of the old pictures she's got in there.

'I brought a few little things of my own in the trunk. It'll make it more homelike. I'm a great hand for having a place homelike. . . If you could just send down for my trunk, here's the check and put it on Crystal's bill. . . thank you. I'm sure you'll find me a real quiet tenant, thanks ever so much!"

Adeline felt happier than she had for months when she got into a bungalow apron and a pair of crocheted slippers, and began to pick up a bit in Crystal's cluttered apartment.

'She'll be glad to see Mama,' she thought complacently. 'And that was a real nice lookin' man in the manager's office. He looked like a wild one to me. You can see he'll be one to appreciate a real woman. . . Crystal was right there are better chances in the city. I'll show that upstart second rate realtor! Huh!—just how much he disappointed me. . . as if I'm the kind to live in a little town, like San Jose. Well he'll see. There's no good fish in the sea as was ever caught. . . I'll have to get my hair touched up a bit. . . I wonder where Crystal has her charge accounts?'

And Crystal sped on towards her honeymoon with her 'rich' husband to her side.

Old Mr Greely chuckled when he heard what Ralph had done. 'Worse'n' Jill," he said.

The chuckling brought on a cough ing fit that worried Daphne, but not the old man. 'It was worth it,' he wheezed between paroxysms. 'It's most thing I ever heard!'

The girls in the office thought it was funny, too. 'Did you ever?' Mrs. Hobbs, the boldest one, asked. 'Well it just goes to show, honey, that you can't trust a man. I sure thought he was crazy about you. Only the last time he came in I said to Miss Yardley, 'I wonder who'll get Miss Haines' job, when she and McKevitt get married'—and here you are, high and dry!

Yes, there she was—high and dry—and not even the blessed relief of being free again could quite ease the sting of that. It wasn't that she still wanted Ralph. She wondered if she had ever really loved him. wasn't it just being in love with love, instead?

Or had he killed her love so slowly, so quietly, in such trivial little ways that she didn't even know when it died? Finding his guilt didn't do it. . . . it was gone long before that.

She even found it in her heart to pity Crystal. Crystal won't ever be happy with Ralph when she can't have all the things she wants and has been used to. and what will he do if he finds out about that artist and all those men?

'And suppose her mother comes back and wants to live with them.

It was foolish worrying about them but she couldn't get it off her mind.

She was lonely too. Conscious of the pitying glances Miss Viola threw after her and the whisperings of Mrs Spellman, and Mrs Halliday.

As I told Spellman, if I told him once I told him 50 times. 'A working girl is a fool if she thinks a society man 's going to marry her, I said. I could see from the first—' Sure. Those kind don't respect a girl without a chaperon and all. Believe me, when she went riding all over the country with him, I thought! He has fine intentions!' I thought—

Sometimes she went, after work to the little flat near the park where Flora and her new family lived. A shabby, none too clean little place littered with battered wigless dolls, and books and tattered picture books. With children's little socks and rompers just out of the washtub. With oil paints and brushes with rickety easels and powdered charcoal, and half finished drawings.

It was good to feel Flora's warm arms around her. Daphne, if you want the sport to crawl up to this hell hole to see us! Isn't it perfectly frightful? Knock Junior's shoes off that chair, and sit down. No, Alice, sweetheart, you can't kiss Daffy till you wash your dirty face—wash her face Sister there's a good girl! Now tell me what the old cats are saying about me—Of course you'll stay to dinner? I've got macaroni Spanish and Axel will make one of his famous salads and there's some beer—"

But though Flora made her more than welcome and the three roundeyed, chubby children greeted her with shrieks of joy, Daphne always went home with a lump in her throat and a sense of depression that lasted for days. Just the way the tall stoop shouldered Axel touched Flora the quick understanding glances that flash between them, made her ache with loneliness. This had each other the rabbit flat, the noisy children the heaped mending basket.

what did they matter? They had love. love bright and brave enough to gild and glorify even the dreary job of everything living.

I'm one of the unlucky ones,' she decided. I'll go on working forever and ever. I've got a good position now. I can have nice clothes like Miss Yardley, and go to plays and symphonies with other girls. After a while I'll save enough to have my own apartment, and get a cat, and a parrot, like all the rest of the old maids!'

Allan—come back to me!' she cried across the miles.

I'm coming—wait for me! oh could almost hear him answer that was nonsense, of course. He'd have forgotten her by this time, men were good at forgetting. She tried to force his image out of her mind. . . blue eyed shock headed Allan with the old, tired look back of his eyes, and the little boy freckles over his nose. . .

She battled with all her strength against thinking about him. 'Look all the time you put in mooning over that Ralph McKevitt! And what good did that ever do you, Foolish? Suppose Allan Winters did like you once? Couldn't he get over it?' Not for worlds would she have asked old Mr. Greely for news, though she knew intuitively that he was in touch with Allan.

I hear Mr Winters is going to be in charge at McKevitt's pretty soon," Barney, the office boy, volunteered. Gee it'll be touch on Mr Kevitt to have to take orders from him, won't it? But gee he's getting off easy at that. Everybody on the street is talking. he sure did Mr Winters an awful turn. If I was him I wouldn't have the face to sit it out. Maybe he'll beat it when Mr Winters gets back—I heard he must likely will—What did you hear, Miss Haines?'

I didn't hear anything" Daphne said truthfully, though Barney didn't believe her. Fat chance of the boss secretary not knowing anything about it! But how was she to know that old Mr Greely was again playing God?

The long summer days dragged. Mr Greely and his early Victorian sister went for their annual fortnight at the vine covered cottage in Bellaus. The stolish Miss Yardley her plain face flushed with excitement, left for Lake Louise with a girl friend and a wardrobe trunk full of carefully selected clothes. And when they were all back again, and even the office boy had had his two weeks, Daphne was still there.

'When are you going on your vacation Miss Haines?'

Daphne didn't know. She was waiting. . . for something. . . she would'nt admit, even to herself, for what. . . 'I'll go soon,' she told them carelessly. Every morning, in Mrs. Hinckley's back bedroom she wakened, her large gray eyes bright with hope. . . 'Maybe this will be the day. . . maybe he will come back today.' Every night she covered her typewriter and cleared her desk, with a vague sense of disappointment. Another day gone. . . wasn't he ever coming?

He came one warm afternoon in August, when no one, not even Daphne was expecting him, and Mr. Greely was out.

'But I think Mr Greely will be in later,' Mrs. Hobbs, in her capacity of receptionist, volunteered. 'If you'd care to go into his office and wait—'

She was a little bowled over by this new Mr Winters. This bronzed and strangely different Allan Winters of whom all California at was talking. . . this poised, nonchalantly at ease stranger who had replaced the awkward boy of two years ago, and the supposed fugitive from justice of eleven short months ago. . . this returned hero who was going to make that uppity McKevitt kick sick.

'Thanks,' he said. 'I will wait.'

To be concluded

Great minds run in the same channel, and they carve the channel. It isn't a rut.

Love's Awakening

The Heart Story of a Woman's Lasting Affections

BY ADELE GARRISON

Ronald Creates Quite a Stir

"NOT the main entrance Auntie Madge. Don't turn this corner. Keep right on a few feet. There! Do you see the tall gate posts? Turn right in there and drive up by the side of those parked cars. You'll be almost under the window that is for this is Senior hall.

She could have said 'This is Heaven' in much the same tone. I was sure. We had heard enough during her junior year at Whitney of the traditions and privileges investing life in the building which housed the girls in their last year of school to know that she was realizing the fulfillment of a cherished dream.

The Brixton car had followed us in and Marion scrambled to the ground, meeting Carolyn in an equally impetuous exit from the other car.

'Look, Carolyn!' she exclaimed. 'There's my window and there's Bob! And Mike too. What a sap! I'm not the first, after all. Hello up there! Come on down for a minute before I have to see Mrs Barnes.

'Can't for a few minutes,' one of the girls leaning out of a second story window returned. 'But leave your traps down there. We'll help you tote them up after you've made your bow in front. When you go in pipe Dr B's necktie. It's a hot bab-"

'He hasn't the limelight all to himself,' the other girl interrupted. Only her curly head showed above the sill and I guessed that she was not dressed for critical inspection by strangers. 'Mrs B has the spiffiest new rig ever. Oh, I tell you we're all dolled up for fair."

'The disrespectful little devils!' Lillian murmured in my ear but I had caught a distinct note of pride in both the girlish voices and knew that their comments were really a tribute of admiration to the man and woman at the head of Whitney. They would have been loyal to shabbiness but they openly exulted in modish attire.

Something else I had noticed also and that was the low pitch of the voices of all the girls. Their tones were gay, unsubdued but not shrill or loud. I doubted if they could have been heard many feet beyond my own car.

I had no opportunity to tell Lillian of my theory, however for Marion came dancing back to the car, pulling Carolyn after her.

Mums, I have a scheme," she said. "Let's you and Auntie Madge and me go round in front and see Mrs B. I have to report I'm here you know. And then you can tell her how I want Carolyn for a room mate, and how she's here with her mother. Maybe, as she's going to be a senior, Mrs B would let her come in today. You never can tell what might happen."

I think that's a very good idea Marion," her mother said, smiling at her enthusiasm. And we'll go over right away."

She turned to the other car with a word of explanation for Helena Brixton, and then we were on our way to the front of the building leaving Ronald and Carolyn standing by their mother's car. I got a sly glance at the upper windows and saw that the two girls who had talked to Marion, together with three others were unmistakably watching Ronald. He was well worth any girl's looking at, I thought as I gave a backward glance at his lithe, slender young figure, with his really handsome face and his fair hair, unruly in the breeze.

We were several minutes reaching the main entrance, for Marion not only wished to point out to me every detail of the big ivy-covered buildings, but she was in turn interrupted by girls who were arriving singly and in groups, and were apparently filled to bursting with greetings and questions. We were just at the steps when one of the girls we had seen at the window and who had evidently made whirlwind progress downstairs, caught Marion by the arm.

'The girls sent me down to find out who the sheik is," she said in what was meant to be a whisper, but which was clearly audible to Lillian and me.

Facing the cruelest test a skin can meet

"Without smooth skin, no girl can be lovely," say leading directors

IT is the most precious charm a girl can have—clear velvety skin. All Hollywood agrees on this, leading stars and directors alike.

For there is something about lovely skin that sends a ripple of emotion through every heart.

And for the screen star, skin as smooth as a flower petal is a prime necessity.

"People open their hearts instantly to the appealing loveliness of exquisite skin," says Edward Sedgwick, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer director, expressing the experience of 39 Hollywood directors. "Every star knows how essential it is to have beautiful, smooth skin."

The huge new incandescent "sunspot" lights stream down heartlessly on the star's skin while the close up is being taken. Any tiniest defect will be registered on the film, now more highly sensitized even than before. In consequence, of the 451 important actresses in Hollywood, including all stars, 442 guard the smoothness of their skin with Lux Toilet Soap.

JOAN CRAWFORD, fascinating Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star, meets the brilliancy of the new incandescent "sunspot" close-up lights with perfect self-confidence—because her lovely face and arms and shoulders are kept beautifully smooth with Lux Toilet Soap.

"I have tried innumerable French soups but never have I had anything like Lux Toilet Soap for keeping my skin fresh and smooth. And 'studio skin' is the all important asset for the star who must face into the glaring lights of the close-up."

Joan Crawford

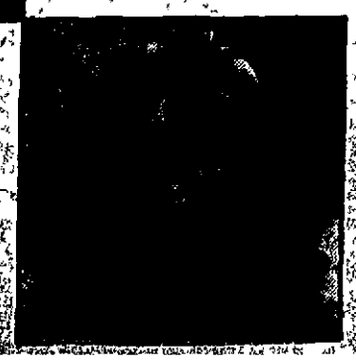
JOAN CRAWFORD finds this delicately fragrant white soap delightful both in this lovely bathroom and in her special dressing room on location. It keeps her skin in such marvelous condition.

The next time you see RUTH TAYLOR in a close-up, notice how softly smooth Lux Toilet Soap keeps her fine skin. This little Paramount blonde says: "No art of make-up can deceive the close-up. I guard my skin in my most private moments and know that Lux Toilet Soap treats it gently."



9 out of 10 screen stars guard their smooth skin this way

HOW well the lovely girls whose beauty stirs a million hearts every time they appear in a close-up, know that the skin must be kept rarely smooth!

Of the 451 important actresses in Hollywood, including all stars, 442 depend on Lux Toilet Soap to guard their skin.

The very next time you see Joan Crawford or Ruth Taylor in the close-up, notice how captivatingly smooth Lux Toilet Soap keeps their skin.

Following the example of the stars, every one of the great film studios has made this soap the official soap in all dressing rooms.

If you haven't already discovered for yourself just how smooth this fragrant white soap keeps your skin, try it today.

You'll like it in your bath, too. It lathers so generously! Remember: 9 out of 10 screen stars use it.

FUNERAL RITES HELD FOR SCHOOL PIONEER

Miss Catherine Cromer Active Many Years in Educational Service

Final tributes were paid here today to the memory of Miss Catharine C. Cromer, pioneer in Ohio educational work, who died last Thursday at the age of 85 years. Miss Cromer, a member of the Ohio Wesleyan university class of 1869 and one of the two surviving graduates of that year, was active in college and public school service until her retirement at the age of 72.

Teachers and others interested in educational work were present at Miss Cromer's funeral, held here today, representing Marion, Lima, Columbus and other places where she had been engaged in teaching and school organization service.

Funeral Services Today

Rites were held at the Schauffner-Queen funeral home at 1:30 o'clock and at Emanuel's Lutheran church at 2 o'clock, followed by interment in Marion cemetery. The Rev. J. W. Schillinger, pastor of Emanuel's Lutheran church, was in charge, assisted by the Rev. W. H. Howard, pastor of the First United Brethren church.

Miss Cromer died of influenza, last Thursday, at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. C. H. Cromer, 207 Lincoln av.

Several years ago Miss Cromer contributed a fund to Ohio Wesleyan university to be used in aiding worthy students to obtain an education. The gift was made from savings which she had accumulated from her school work.

Attends Commencement

Last year Miss Cromer attended commencement exercises at Ohio Wesleyan as one of the two remaining members of the class of 1869.

For eight years she was a teacher and principal in the Delaware public school.

Following a return from an European course of study, Miss Cromer accepted a position in Simpson college, Ia., where she taught for 15 or more years. From there she went to Lima, where she was instrumental in the founding of the Lima Lutheran college for girls and boys, a school which later suspended operation. The last years of her teaching were spent at Bluffton college, from which she retired at the age of 72 years, coming to this city 12 years ago.

Miss Cromer addressed graduating classes, community clubs and other organizations which she thought would be interested in the advancement of education. Several educational journals have printed articles written by her.

ELECTRICITY
A servant for EVERYBODY'S COMFORT
It is estimated that the annual street accident loss is fully one billion dollars, of which 54 million dollars is due to inadequate street-lighting. This is more than the yearly expenditure for street lighting, without considering the human loss in injury and death. Thus good street lighting would cost less than nothing.

SUCCESSFUL METHODS FOR COMBATTING FLU AND COLDS

Follow These Rules—Do Not Fool With a Cold — Use Tried Safe Methods

Look out for colds—even mild colds in the head and throat.

Don't let them get down into the chest and lungs.

Don't expose yourself to damp or wet weather.

Don't go out if you are feeling sick. Influenza, grippe, pneumonia or other serious sickness often come from colds.

THE DANGER

Cold, "Flu" and Pneumonia Germs multiply by the millions and attack the weak and the strong alike. Watch out for colds, they weaken your resistance. The greatest danger lies in that "simple cold." Kill that cold quickly.

It is of vast importance to clean out the entire intestinal tract, upper and lower bowels regularly. Keep the kidneys well flushed and freshen and strengthen the blood.

Experience of 1918

The experience of the 1918 epidemic showed that one of the best and simplest treatments was to take a steaming hot cupful of Bulgarian Herb Tea.

Why take any chances, why not be prepared to fight off your cold or "flu?"

The right thing to do now is to get to your druggist, get a box of Bulgarian Herb Tea. Kill off your cold. Take it steaming hot twice a week. It will heat up the chilled blood, increase the circulation and rid the bowels and intestines of poisons and germs. Every family will find Bulgarian Herb Tea (purely vegetable) a real blessing to have on hand in the time of need. Keep your system clean all winter.

See your druggist at once. Your health—perhaps your very life—may depend upon taking this simple precaution. Costs but a few cents.

If you have had the flu or a bad cold already, watch out for a recurrence. A cupful of Tea twice a week is your protection against attacks.—Adv.

INDICT TWO IN MURDER IN MUSKINGUM COUNTY

ZANESVILLE, Jan. 15—Two persons are under indictment here today for murder, the outgrowth of Zanesville's mystery killing on Sept. 10, last. The victim of the slaying was identified by Henry Walborn of Beech Bottom, W. Va. The alleged murder occurred during a party at the farm home of Charles White, near here.

Thelma Bonifant, 25, is in the Muskingum county jail, having been arrested after the indictment last night. The other indicted person is Harold Smith, former Steubenville mine guard, now serving a term in Ohio penitentiary for carrying concealed weapons.

Shortly after the murder, the grand jury indicted two men known only as "Chuck" and "Eddie." It was revealed later, authorities claim, that Miss Bonifant and Smith also were present at the party.

DEATH UNCOVERS RUTH LOVE TRAGEDY

Baseball fans remember many scenes such as the above five at Yankee Stadium and Polo Grounds in New York, when "Babe" was visited by his wife and daughter, Dorothy. At right are three views of the couple at St. Vincent Hospital, where both were patients shortly before they reached parting of ways. They rarely met since 1925, "Babe" says.

CLEMENCY REFUSED RUDNER BY BOARD

"Can See No Reason," is Statemnt Following Consideration of Appeal

COLUMBUS, Jan. 15—"We can see no reason why we should extend clemency to this man," was the statement made public here today by the state clemency board in denying mercy to Ben Rudner, alleged "pay-off man" of the Mellett murder conspiracy at Canton more than two years ago. The board held that Rudner had his chance in the various courts through which his case has been carried.

Rudner was received at Ohio Penitentiary March 1, 1927, to serve a life term for the murder of Don R. Mellett, crusading Canton editor. Mellett was shot to death at his home in July, 1926, the result of his crusade against vice in Canton. Rudner was held by authorities to be an accessory to the murder by acting as "pay-off man" to Pat McDermott, who is serving life after his conviction as the actual gunman.

The clemency board investigated the case at the request of former Gov. Vic Donahey, to whom several appeals had been made for parole. The result of the board's action will mean that Rudner must serve his sentence as imposed upon him by Judge Abram W. Agler of the Stark county common pleas court.

Besides Rudner and McDermott, Floyd Streitenberger, former Canton city detective, is serving a life sentence for Mellett's murder, and Louis Maser is serving an indefinite term, having turned state's evidence.

Everybody is cordially invited to our showing of the "New Dodge Six." Guy C. Stoltz, 130-140 N. Prospect st. 5t—Adv.

Halt Funeral Service As Examination of Body of Mrs. Babe Ruth is Held

Contents of Fire Victim's Stomach Will Be Sent to Harvard Medical School for Analysis; Dentist Exonerated by Watertown Police Chief

BOSTON, Jan 15—Funeral services for Mrs George Herman Babe' Ruth, wife of the baseball home run king who lost her life in a fire in the Watertown home of Dr Edward Kinder, were halted today while Dr George Burgess McGrath famous medical examiner of Suffolk county, conducted a minute examination of the body

Contents of the stomach of the fire victim will go to the Harvard medical school for examination and analysis of its contents

Medical Examiner Dr George L West of Middlesex county who, after his autopsy said death was due to accidental suffocation and incineration, suggested to District Attorney Robert T Bushnell that Dr McGrath and the Harvard Medical school had better facilities than he for a detailed examination Both officials were convinced, however, that there was no mystery in Mrs Ruth s death and regard the second autopsy simply as a double check

Denies Charges

However, relatives of Mrs Ruth still insist that they are far from convinced that she was not a victim of foul play

Babe Ruth took occasion today to deny the charges of his sister in law, Miss Nora Woodford that less than a month ago in New York he had demanded that his wife allow him to get a divorce so he could marry another woman "It isn t true,' said Ruth 'that s all I have to say about the charges at the present time

One full whisky bottle and one empty bottle found on a table in the first floor of the home of Dr Kinder where Mrs Ruth was burned to death last Friday night have placed a new angle on the investigation being conducted by state of ficials

The bottles had contained drug store whisky, issued on a doctor s prescription The state investigators are now endeavoring to find the physician who issued the prescription

Believed In Stupor

According to the state and fire officials Mrs Ruth was apparently in a stupor when the fire broke through the floor of her bedroom The bed clothing was neatly piled on a chair and Mrs Ruth was either sitting in a chair in a stupor or lying on the bed in a dazed condition the investigators believe

The fact that the woman s body was found within three feet of the door leading into a hall way that was free of smoke and fire indicated that she did not possess her normal faculties as otherwise she would have been able to reach the door and safety

The authorities now believe that Mrs Ruth may have been in a stupor from the whisky, or possibly, as relatives of the dead woman claim, may have been helpless from drugs The investigation during the next few days will proceed along these lines

Dentist Exonerated

Dr Kinder appearing at Watertown police station was questioned at length by Police Chief John F Mlmore and was allowed to go

The chief gave the dentist complete exoneration in a statement in which he said

'We are satisfied Dr Kinder had nothing to do with the death of Mrs Ruth

Regarding the dentist s relations with Mrs Ruth, Chief Mlmore said

Dr Kinder told me he had occasionally lived with Mrs Ruth as man and wife since 1927, but they never were married'

The much argued question when and where the 'sultan of swat' and Helen Woodford were married was settled when Ruth announced the ceremony was performed on Oct. 17 1914, at Ellicott City, Maryland The ceremony according to the rites of the Roman Catholic church was performed by the Rev Father Thomas S Dolan

'Licked' Says Babe

"This thing has licked me" I don t care if I never play baseball again I m through The only thing I want is to get away from it all and go away somewhere—alone"

Babe Ruth, mightiest figure in baseball history, who has accepted every challenge in his fighting career in baseball, admitted in these words today that the blow of his wife s tragic death has crushed and defeated him in mind and body

He admitted that his brilliant career lies in ruins at his feet, that his ambition is shattered and that at the apex of his triumph, he is a ruined man

In his suite at the Brunswick hotel, Babe lay on his bed, tossing in agony his eyes red from weeping his hands trembling his clothes rumpled

Holds Kindly Feeling

'I can't. I've tried but I can't This thing has licked me. The only thing I want is to get away from it all to go somewhere where I can be alone It all seems like a terrible nightmare

'I want to go away The way I feel now, I don t care whether I ever play baseball again or not. This blow has hit me squarely between the eyes"

In spite of the shock and heartbreak of his discovery that his wife had been living at the Dr Kinder home, the Babe displayed no bitterness toward the memory of the girl he had loved

On the contrary, he declared he would always remember her with tenderness with affection, and with kindly thoughts

To Aid Family

'My first thought' he continued 'is to care for the family of my unfortunate wife Our grief is mutual. I want to help to lessen their grief in any way I can My first thought is one of sympathy for them

Ruth said he would spare no expense to give his wife a fitting funeral Informed that Mrs Ruth s family contemplated erecting an expensive headstone over her grave he said he desired to do that himself as a tribute of his love

I love her still' he said She was unfortunate a victim of circumstances I hold nothing against her

'Please just let my wife alone—let her stay dead'

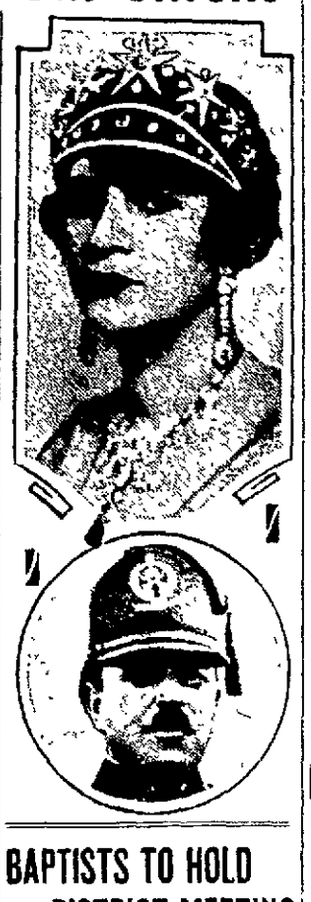
Vanity of Woman Causes King To Lose His Throne

Tribesmen Revolt Against Reforms Introduced by Queen



LONDON, Jan. 15—A woman's vanity cost King Amanullah, of Afghanistan, his throne, it is generally believed in London today.

The woman is Queen Souriya, beautiful wife of the king, who has just abdicated in favor of his 40-year-old brother, Prince Inayatulla Khan, from whom he usurped the throne in 1919.

After their return from a long trip through western Europe, King Amanullah and Queen Souriya immediately tried to introduce "reforms." The queen's vanity and fondness for Parisian clothes as well as her insistence that Afghan women should discard the face veil led to a revolt among the tribesmen who had old-fashioned views.

The tribesman particularly resented the abolition of the veil. They wanted their women to dress according to the customs of the country and not to imitate their "emancipated sisters" of western Europe.

Amanullah's successor was rightful heir to the Afghan throne 10 years ago when his aggressive 36-year-old brother usurped it. Prince Inayatulla Khan has no reforming zeal. His views coincide with those of the old fashioned tribesmen. He was educated in Afghanistan, is an excellent rifle shot and a practiced horseman, qualities which the tribesmen admire.

WOMAN HOLDS UP BANK AND ESCAPES

Bullets Fail To Halt Bandit as Car Plunges Through Snow

DETROIT, Jan. 15—A squad of detectives today spread a dragnet about Detroit and suburbs seeking a woman bank bandit, alone but armed, who held up teller in the Hastings st branch of the Dime Savings Bank and made good her escape through a rain of bullets from police and private citizens' guns. Although the woman appeared to be a negress police incline to the belief she was a white woman who had blackened her face.

The waiting automobile in which she fled with her $400 loot was riddled with bullets but apparently the woman was unwounded for the car went steadily away through the drifting snow leaving would-be pursuers afoot and firing at the fast-disappearing car.

Patrolman Michael Anderlic detailed from headquarters during the Monday evening banking hours was standing a few feet away from Joseph Easton, the teller, but was unaware of the holdup until Easton fired at the woman from his cage. Likewise Easton's four associates in the bank and two customers did not know a robbery was in progress.

Elimination and reconstruction of bridges now too narrow for traffic in the county is also recommended, the approximate cost being placed at $120,000. Aid in reconstruction of those portions of state highways which pass through municipalities is set at $60,000 in the county.

WOMAN SENTENCED ON LIQUOR CHARGES

Bootlegger Must Serve Term at Marysville Reformatory

ATHENS Jan 15—Nell Judson, Athens, confessed bootlegger, was to be taken to Maarysville reformatory for women today. She pleaded guilty to making and selling liquor, explaining to the court that she "had to earn money to keep her children in school." Court records show it was her third plea of guilty to the charge of violating dry laws.

Mrs. Judson demoralized the force of Sheriff William Williams for three days during the past week, after escaping from an officer who was taking her from the county jail here to Glouster to attend her father's funeral. She remained at liberty for three days and was captured only because she "couldn't shoot straight," according to Sheriff Williams.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Heck captured her after she had emptied the charges of a six-cylinder revolver at him when he encountered her in the hilly-wooded section south of Glouster. She was dressed as a man, and Deputy Heck did not know the identity of his assailant until after overpowering her when the revolver was empty.

Mrs Judson declared last night that the reformatory "could not hold her." Sheriff Williams said that she made an unsuccessful attempt to escape while being taken from the courthouse to the county jail after receiving her sentence.

MRS. WOOD TO APPEAR IN COURT ON MONDAY

Woman Held in Plot on Husband Free Under $50,000 Bond

DETROIT, Jan 15—With Mrs Grace M Wood free under $50,000 bond and secluded in a fashionable downtown hotel, Charles Lambert, special investigator for Prosecutor James Chanot, today began the task of putting in shape evidence against her to be presented at her trial on a charge of conspiracy to murder her husband, Ralph A Wood, wealthy realtor.

William Thompson and Taylor Pierce, alleged conspirators who fought a gun battle in which Ambrose Haggerty, 25 year old gunman, was shot to death by Wood, are to appear with Mrs Wood in Justice Leonard L. Schemanske's court next Monday for examination. Both men still are in the county jail having been unable to procure $50,000 bond.

Police Commissioner William P. Rutledge said the part played by police officers in frustration of the alleged plot was entirely justified in his opinion.

Gillespie had declared his belief that Mrs. Wood had been the victim of a "frame-up" and had criticized the police ambuscade in which Haggerty met death.

KENTON CONCERN ON FULL CAPACITY

President of Industry Sees Year of Prosperity for 1929

KENTON, Jan. 15—A year of exceptional prosperity in the machine tool industry is predicted by C. C. Swift, president of the Ohio Machine Tool Company, manufacturers of planers, lathes, electric butt welders, and drill presses. This he attributes to the fact that all tools manufactured before, during and since the World war are obsolete and to the innumerable kinds of high speed steels being used throughout the industrial fields which require machine tools of greater efficiency.

The Ohio Machine Tool company has a force of 80 men working full capacity and the outlook is one of extended prosperity.

The company has been in operation in this city for more than 50 years.

"My Skin was a Sight"

"I couldn't look people in the face, I was so ashamed of my skin! It was always blotched with pimples and blackheads and at times itched terribly. I had tried everything and was so discouraged that I couldn't bring myself to take hope in anything. You can imagine my surprise, therefore, when one application of Rowles Mentho Sulphur almost completely cleared my skin. In a short time you wouldn't know my skin—it was so clear and healthy looking."

The sulphur in Rowles Mentho Sulphur clears the skin while the menthol heals the sore, broken tissue. That's the twofold action you want for skin troubles. Even fiery eczema yields to it. All drug stores carry Rowles Mentho Sulphur. Try it tonight.—Adv.

Avoid colds or "flu" by doing two easy things

Keep your system in good condition—protect your nose and throat

THERE is no use worrying all winter for fear you will catch cold or get "flu". Do the following two things and forget it: First, keep your system in good condition, and, second, keep your nose and throat well protected. The chances are you will avoid contagion.

As a first precaution, many doctors are prescribing Nujol. It is not a laxative or cathartic but a pure, natural substance that helps your system function at all times the way nature intended it to. Like pure water, it is harmless. Physicians agree that, particularly in times of epidemic, purging by laxatives and cathartics is not advisable.

Many doctors are now prescribing Nujol, as in no case does it cause exhaustion or weakening of the system in any way. Take it every night; it will keep you in first class condition. You will have a far better chance to resist colds or "flu" or any diseases that are going the rounds.

As a second safety measure, use Mistol, as it protects the nose and throat against the germs of influenza. Use it every morning, the first thing, before you go out. Again, when you come home at night. Don't be afraid to use it freely; it will do no harm.

Never has colds

Just tilt your head back and apply Mistol with the special dropper which comes with every package, until you feel it trickling down your throat. It will clear your head wonderfully, relieve any inflammation; it will help dry up a running nose. It has a soothing effect on the throat too. Gargle it for a sore throat or a little irritating cough.

The combination treatment of Nujol and Mistol is a double safeguard against colds and influenza. Start this wise twofold precaution now. Put worry out of your mind. Nujol and Mistol are on sale at all druggists.

FANS SATISFIED

FIGHTS of the type put on last night are the kind that keep the sport alive in Marion The card ranked as the best staged here in the past year Practically every bout gave fans plenty of action

Both of the boys in the main go, California Joe Gans and Nordie Smith, are worthy as main go features. Smith seems to be the most popular of the two with local fans

The writer does not believe in fighters being rematched It was tried once last year and resulted in a complete flop Fighters have too good a memory and seem a bit cautious in a second meeting

MIXED MATCHES OFF

MIXED matches are taboo in Marion That was the statement made to the writer by the promoter of last night's card The plan was tried out last year and was far from being successful

It should not be difficult to obtain good boys of the same color to appear in local shows It seems that it is impossible to obtain fair treatment for both fighters when the races are mixed

The two colored boys last night gave fans just what they wanted The boxing was not so clever but the action was there. The average fight fan wants to see plenty of gloves fly and it makes little difference if there is no science connected with it

GOOD OLD JACK

Dempsey Seeks Favors of Sports Writers in Miami

MIAMI BEACH, Fla, Jan 15—One good turn deserves another, and so Jack Dempsey, whole-heartedly entering into his new role as copromoter for the Sharkey Stribling bout here on Feb 27, was outdoing himself today in obtaining favors for the sports writers who boosted him when he was a comparatively unknown contender for the world's heavyweight championship

As soon as the former champion had concluded preliminary plans yesterday for the fight, his chief concern was newspaper men He is making arrangements for the establishment of a press room in a hotel and trying to obtain special rate for them

GANS HELD TO DRAW BY SMITH

RAY SNYDER TAKES WIN IN SEMI-FINAL

Good Bouts Feature Eagles' Fight Show Here; Wildcat Aukings Goes Wild To Knockout Charley Walters in Third Round; Mitchell Decisions Boychan

BY KARL R WELROY

Sports Editor, The Star

A GAME little colored lad from Newark stepped into the boxing limelight at the Eagles hall last night fighting California Joe Gans to draw after eight furious rounds of slugging

He was Nordie Smith who, in the opinion of many fans or rather the majority of them, should have gained the decision The judges' verdict on the affair was not taken too warmly and a great deal of the customary hooting followed

Smith Active

Smith is one of those boys who fights his way into the hearts of fans by furnishing plenty of action He is none too certain of his punches but when he lands they can be felt

Gans made his best showing in the sixth and eighth rounds and when the bell ended the match Smith was in a bad way His face was cut and bruised from the fury of Gans punches In the sixth a cut was opened above Smith's eye while in the seventh frame the Newark boy came back to give Gans two pretty blows to the face Gans' lip was badly bruised

Rounds Close

Smith's wildness above all other things prevented him from winning the fight. If he had landed with half his punches the fight would have easily been his The last round aided Gans quite a bit being the only one that he took by a wide margin All others were close

Ray Snyder, Marion's leading dealer in batteries had an off night and was rather disappointing to fans although he managed to carry off the decision in his bout with Ray Gaushaw of Newark

Snyder Slow

It was an eight round affair with the local boy failing to show his old speed and socking power Snyder went slow in the first four rounds and it was not until the fifth that he showed anything at all He passed up a good many chances to slip a knockout punch through Gaushaw's guard

Wildcat Aukings of Mt. Vernon fired up to his name by knocking out Charley Walters of Columbus in the third round of their scheduled six round preliminary.

Although very short the fight was a whizz while it lasted Knockdowns seemed to be nothing in the lives of the two boys Aukings received a nice shock in the first frame when Walters slipped a nice punch through to send the Mt Vernon mauler to the canvas

Out In Second

The second round found Aukings coming back strong to lay Walters out The Columbus fighter was dead to the world but the punch came too late and Walters was saved by the bell.

Still a bit under the weather, Walters started out the third frame but could not stand up under the blows from Aukings' right Near the end of the round Walters caught a heavy right on the nose and the fight ended

Dicky Mitchell of Findlay gained a decision over George Boychan of Newark at the end of their six round preliminary Boychan was not so clever failing to mix it up

The opening preliminary ended with Slim Danforth of Mt. Vernon winning over Ed Hannley of Marion by a technical knockout in the third Hannley gave up when he hurt a muscle in his shoulder.

EPWORTH TO OFFER TOUGH GOING FOR TRINITY BAPTISTS

Intermediate League Lead at Stake When Christians Meet Presbyterians

By BOB ELLIOTT

Marion Star Sports Staff

EPWORTH cagers may topple Trinity Baptist from their first place tie with the Central Christian five when they tangle in the feature attraction of Tuesday night's menu in the senior loop of the Sunday school basketball league, at the Y M C A

The Methodists came near to upsetting the dope bucket when they dropped a close 30-28 game to the Christian team in last week's games Together with the addition of Partridge at center and the improved team play of the Epworth crew it would not be a bit surprising to see the Baptists suffer their first defeat tonight The battle between Bob Merchant and Partridge the two tipoff men, should be worth seeing However if the Baptists have their shooting clothes on they should win by a close score

In the first game Waldo and United Brethren tangle in what should also be a battle of centers Vanderhoff and Strine, the opposing pivotmen are both good shots and clever floor men Strine specializes in short and 'dribble in' shots while Vanderhoff has no peers in dumping them in from way out. Our money will be placed on the Waldo cagers, although the U B Quintet will give them a run for their money

Calvary and Christians tangle in the second game which should see the present pace setters win in a canter Calvary has a hard fighting team but is hardly in a class with the fast stepping Christian five

Central Christian and Presbyterian meet in the feature clash of the intermediate league which will eliminate one of the two from the top standings Christian looked good in both its starts and will be our choice to carry away the bacon Epworth tangles with Greenwood in the opening game of the night The Methodists should have little trouble with the north end cagers in this fray

Calvary and Trinity Baptist meet in the second game which will be a battle to get out of last place in the standings Each team has dropped two starts and will be trying to break into the win column If you're trying to pick the winner, flip a coin

Everybody is cordially invited to our showing of the 'New Dodge Six" Guy C Stoltz 136-140 N Prospect st. 5t—Adv

OHIO STATE CAGERS BEATEN BY PURPLE OF NORTHWESTERN

Bucks Drop to .500 Mark in Standings of Big Ten

COLUMBUS, Jan 15—Northwestern university was enjoying a home today with its first Big Ten basketball victory to its credit this season, pulling one of those 'how games out of the fire in the last minute of play here last night The final whistle found the Purple with two counters to Ohio State's 24

It was a catch as-catch-can game throughout first Ohio leading by Northwestern With 30 seconds left to play the score was 25 to 24 Two in this fraction of a minute Ohio was given free throws to no avail, and as the game ended Walter's toss was in the air It swished through and Northwestern had won its first game in four starts Ohio State dropped back to a .500 percentage mark

RESOLUTION NO. 45
TO ISSUE BONDS OF THE VILLAGE OF NEW BLOOMINGTON, MARION COUNTY, OHIO, IN THE SUM OF $2,250.00, OF WHICH THE AMOUNT OF $1,250 00 SHALL BE FOR THE PURPOSE OF REPAIRING AND REMODELING THE TOWN HALL TO BE USED AS A STORE HOUSE FOR THE FIRE FIGHTING EQUIPMENT OF SAID VILLAGE, AND THE AMOUNT OF $1,000 00 SHALL BE FOR THE PURPOSE OF PURCHASING FIRE-FIGHTING EQUIPMENT.

Whereas, at the general election held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of 1928, the qualified electors of the Village of New Bloomington, Marion County, Ohio, did duly approve a proposal to levy a tax of four and one-half mills in excess of the fifteen mill limitation for a period of five years, for the purpose of purchasing fire fighting equipment, and remodeling the Town Hall so as to house such equipment therein; and,

Whereas, the result of said vote was duly certified to the County Auditor of said Marion County, Ohio, and said levy duly made and placed upon the Tax Duplicate for the current year for collection, and,

Whereas, the Village Clerk, as Fiscal Officer of said Village, has certified to this Council that the estimated life of each class of property to be constructed and acquired, is five years, and the maximum maturity of the bonds to be issued therefor, is five years; and,

Whereas, this Council estimates that a tax for said bonds in accordance with said vote will first appear on the tax duplicate for the year, 1928, and the final settlement with the County Auditor next following inclusion of a tax for said issue of bonds in the annual budget by the County Auditor as provided by law, will be obtained not earlier than the first day of September, 1929, and the semi-annual settlement with said County Auditor will be obtained not earlier than March 1st, 1929, and will therefore require no interest until such taxes are collected and available; now therefore

Be it resolved by the Council of the Village of New Bloomington, and State of Ohio:

Section 1. That for the purpose of raising money to repair and remodel the Town Hall in said Village so that the Village Fire Fighting Equipment may be housed therein, and to purchase Fire-fighting Equipment for said Village, it is hereby declared to be necessary to issue and sell, and there shall be issued and sold bonds of said Village of New Bloomington, Ohio, in the amount of $2,250 00, of which amount the sum of $1,250 00 shall be for the purpose of repairing and remodeling said Town Hall, and the sum of $1,000 00 shall be for the purpose of purchasing Fire-fighting Equipment for said Village.

Section 2. Said bonds shall be of the denomination of $225.00 each; shall consist of ten bonds, numbered consecutively from one to ten, both inclusive; shall be dated not later than March 1st, 1929; shall draw interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, payable on the first days of March and September of each year, beginning with September 1st, 1929, upon presentation and surrender of interest coupons to be attached to said bonds as and when the same falls due, and bearing the facsimile signature of the Village Clerk and shall be due and payable as follows:

2 bonds due March 1, 1930
1 bond due September 1, 1930.
1 bond due March 1, 1931
1 bond due September 1, 1931.
1 bond due March 1, 1932.
1 bond due September 1, 1932.
1 bond due March 1, 1933.
2 bonds due September 1, 1933

Section 3. Said bonds shall be signed by the Mayor and Village Clerk, sealed with the Village Seal, and recorded as provided by law; shall specify upon their face the purpose for which they are issued, and the fact that they are issued pursuant to law and this Resolution; shall be payable, both principal and interest, at the office of the Treasurer of said Village; shall be issued and sold under the direction of Council.

Section 4. That the proceeds of the sale of said bonds, except the premiums and accrued interest thereon, shall be placed in the Village Treasure to the credit of the Building Remodeling Fund, and the Fire-fighting Equipment Fund in said respective amounts of $1,250 00, and $1,000 00, and shall be disbursed on proper vouchers for the purpose of repairing and remodeling the Town Hall of said Village for the purpose of making a housing place for the fire-fighting equipment of said Village, and for the purpose of purchasing fire-fighting equipment for said Village and for no other purpose, for which said respective purposes, said money is hereby appropriated; and the premium and accrued interest received from said sale shall be transferred to the Bonds and Interest Retirement Fund.

Section 5. That the faith, revenue and credit of said Village of New Bloomington, Ohio, are hereby pledged for the prompt payment of both principal and interest of the bonds herein before described, in accordance with the laws and constitution of the State of Ohio.

Section 6. That for the purpose of providing the necessary funds to pay the interest on the foregoing issue of bonds promptly when and as the same falls due, and also to create and maintain a fund sufficient to discharge said bonds at maturity, there shall be, and is hereby levied on all taxable property of the said Village of New Bloomington, Marion County, Ohio, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually during the period for which said bonds are to run, in an amount sufficient to provide funds to pay interest upon said bonds as and when the same falls due, and also to provide a fund for the discharge of the principal of said bonds at maturity.

That said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, levied and extended upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time that the taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified, extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other items and for the full amount thereof. All funds derived from said tax levies hereby required, shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which, together with all interest collected on same, shall be and is hereby irrevocably pledged for the payment of the interest and principal of said bonds when and as the same fall due.

Section 7. This Resolution shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

TODAY'S REVIEW OF YESTERDAY'S GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan 15—A further advance in grain prices at the opening of the session yesterday met with heavy realizing sales The upturn was checked and a moderate recession from the highs ensued

Continued short covering and commission house buying sent wheat up sharply to new highs on the present upturn with the July at a new high price for the season Profit taking and local selling against purchases of corn brought the recession early and prices ruled in a comparatively narrow range the rest of the day

All the options in corn went to new high prices on the crop on general buying, much of which was based on bullish news from Argentina Weakness in wheat and heavy profit taking caused a reaction but the market ruled considerably stronger than wheat

Wheat Higher

At the close wheat was ⅛@⅞c higher Corn was up ⅞@1c, oats were ½@⅝c higher, and rye was ½ @⅝ lower

Response of the foreign markets to the local and Winnipeg advance of Saturday started the early buying of wheat Liverpool finished 2⅛@2¼d higher, and Buenos Aires was ½@⅝c higher at mid day. Cables indicated that shorts covered freely in the Liverpool market, but that Argentine shippers were free sellers and the market would probably be slow to follow further advances

Higher prices in the local market were attractive to holders and some of the best supporters of the market on its rapid advance of the past week were reported realizing More concern over the present technical status of the market was also being expressed yesterday

It was rather a surprise to the trade to note that on Saturday's advance the open interest in wheat declined another 3,000 000 bushels As pointed out here several times on the upturn, the open interest has been dwindling rapidly In the past week of trading the total decline has been more than 13 000,000 bushels indicating, of course, heavy short covering

Bullish Reports

There was some talk of damage to the crop by the cold wave of the week end, but this attracted little attention. More pertinent were bullish reports of the improved cash demand noted in outside markets Export demand continued very dull at the advance

First reports of the Argentine corn crop situation were to the effect that rains were being received, but a local house reported a cable from a Buenos Aires correspondent which said that rains were scattered and insufficient and that the drought was doing serious damage, making prospects for a small than a year ago.

This news, coupled with bullish reports of the cash trade in outside markets, led to a continuation of the heavy buying. The market was called upon to absorb considerable profit taking, which it accomplished with apparent ease, maintaining a firm tone throughout the session

Export Quiet

Nothing was heard of export sales, but Broomhall pointed out that, with the exception of geenetic stocks there is very little corn in the world, which makes drought in Argentine even more of a factor of interest.

In the cash market wheat was steady; corn unchanged to 1½c higher; oats unchanged to 1c up rye firm, and barley steady to 1c higher

Cars Inspected Wheat 32 corn 826, oats, 51; rye, 9, barley, 25.

Father and Mother Return To Find Home in Ruins

NEW LEXINGTON, Jan. 15—William, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harlan, prominent Perry county farmers, was burned to death when the Harlan home near Somerset, north of here, was destroyed by fire this morning.

The Harlans left their son in the house while they went about some farm work a few miles away. When they returned their home was a smouldering ruin. The boy's body, burned beyond recognition, was found in the ruins

The origin of the fire is undetermined

Pile Suffering Quickly Relieved The Page Combination Way

COMBINATION TREATMENT WITH INTERNAL TABLETS QUICKLY CONQUERS SEVEREST PAINS

Thousands of Former Sufferers Who Had Abandoned All Hope of Relief Have Been Freed of Pain by This Original, Scientific Method

Piles, which authorities state is one of the most prevalent afflictions of the human race, is no longer always regarded as a serious trouble. Unfortunate as they are, sparing neither old nor young, man, woman nor child; pains from piles are usually easily and pleasantly banished by a new scientific treatment.

To this good news is added the information that the new method has been thoroughly tested and proved before such announcement could be published. In thousands of cases where victims have suffered for years and frankly given up all hope of relief, this marvelously simple method has freed them so quickly of pains from piles that they were positively amazed.

"We are so thoroughly convinced of the merits of our treatment," says the E. R. Page Company, of Marshall, Michigan, the originator of this method, "that we do not hesitate to let those suffering with the most aggravated cases try our treatment without risk or expense to themselves. In fact, we have purposely sought and found such cases as were most painful—some who had been suffering well over thirty years—and persuaded them to try our method. From every nook and corner of the country, reports reach us daily telling of the relief brought.

"This is what has encouraged us to carry on the work—the knowledge that we were giving the world something that would ease the pain and suffering, the ill health and unhappiness, of so many thousands of victims."

Real Trouble Well Concealed

The Page Internal Tablet Combination Treatment, as this new method is called, quickly strikes at the root of the evil. The real cause must be treated before the slightest hope of relief can even be entertained. That terrible burning, that miserable smarting, that unbearable itching and, in some cases, alarming loss of blood is obviously not the cause but merely an effect of the condition which so manifests itself.

Then, logically, the means which must be taken to drive pile pains away should include a treatment that attacks the root. While this treatment is taking effect, it usually gives immediate relief from the attending pain and prevents the local irritation and aggravation which makes piles so uncomfortable. This the Page Treatment actually does, for it is a combination idea which treats the condition as it relieves the suffering.

A Welcome Announcement

Thousands of men, whose efficiency in the business and professional world has been seriously impaired because of the constant discomfort and pain from piles, will welcome news that such a method as the Page Treatment is at last obtainable. Thousands of women, whose daily duties keep them constantly active and therefore in constant pain, will hail the Page Treatment with unalloyed joy. If these sufferers will avail themselves of this wonderful discovery, it is reasonable to assume that the percentage of pile sufferers whose pain is intense and agonizing will shortly become greatly diminished.

Despaired of Being Helped—Treatment Did the Work

A. H. Wallace, of 707 West Chestnut St., Louisville, Ky., relates his experience in the following brief letter of praise. He says: "Some time ago I was bothered with pile pains so badly that I despaired of ever being helped. About that time, however, I saw your advertisement in some paper and sent for a trial treatment. It helped so much that I got a full treatment and I can say that I have not been bothered with pile pains since. That was more than a year ago."

Woman Freed of Long Agony by Unique New Method

After suffering untold pain and constant discomfort for 15 years, Mrs. Joe W. Kelly, of Asheville, N. C., tells how she was freed of pile pains by the Page Combination Treatment. In her letter she says: "I am glad to say that your Pile Treatment has entirely rid me of this terrible distress and pain. I had suffered agony for 14 years. Now I cannot tell you how thankful I am for this wonderful relief, and I will tell everyone whom I know to be a sufferer about this wonderful treatment."

Relieved After 32 Years

After 32 years, A. L. Goldston of Cambridge Springs, Pa., is rid of pain from piles. "I am perfectly well of any pile suffering from which I have been troubled for the past 32 years. I can say so far that all the discoveries of this century do not compare with this great discovery to free the many thousands of people suffering the torture of these pains."

Testimony of Former Sufferers Conclusively Proves Merit of New Method

That a new discovery, based on established scientific principles, is ending pile pains for thousands of men and women, is revealed by the tremendous volume of grateful letters received by the distributors of this treatment from people who have tried it. The big problem which science had undertaken to solve in its efforts to end this distressing and almost universal complaint was that of permanent relief from pile pains.

A number of sufferers, it was generally known, had formerly been able to obtain temporary relief, only to find the trouble returning with increased discomfort at frequent intervals. The question to answer was, therefore, how to rid sufferers of the agonizing pains forever.

Trouble Deeply Rooted

Indication was not lacking as to the origin of piles. It was an accepted fact that the local discomfort was merely a manifestation of other trouble, far more deeply rooted. Once its origin is reached and effectively combated, it is but reasonable to assume that the pains from piles will leave forever.

This was the theory of the originators of the new discovery which is known as the Page Internal Tablet Combination Treatment. Abundant proof of its accuracy in many cases is furnished by the voluntary letters of former sufferers who testify to its merits.

Two Typical Cases

As an example of how quickly the Page Internal Tablet Combination Treatment ends distress and pain from piles, even in extreme cases, a letter from Mrs. M. L. Buckner of Kansas City, Mo., follows. She writes, "One week ago yesterday, I was in bed, helpless. Today I have cleaned my home, cared for my children, and feel fine. I feel sure I would have been dead if relief had not come when it did. Now I do not know I ever had pile pains."

"I had suffered for five years with itching, bleeding and protruding piles," writes Mrs. Adeline Horsley of LaPorte, Ind. "About a year ago, when I felt I could not stand the pain from them, I sent for the Page Treatment. Today I am not bothered any more. Although I only used about half of the treatment, the pain and agony have disappeared."

Brief Treatment Ends Long Years of Suffering

That pile pains that have lasted for years can be frequently eliminated quickly by a new scientific treatment is clearly demonstrated by the experience of Louis Bathke, an Algoma, Wisconsin, man. Thirteen years of suffering was endured before Mr. Bathke determined to try the Page Internal Tablet Combination Treatment. The surprising and highly gratifying results are shown by Mr. Bathke's letter: "I want to let you know that I have been suffering with pile pains for 13 years. A year or so ago I learned of your new method. I used one large and small size treatment received last spring and now I find myself free from pains and distress. Thanks very much. I shall recommend your treatment to any sufferer from piles as it means sure relief from painful suffering."

THIS TREATMENT PROVES PILE SUFFERERS CAN BE RELIEVED OF THEIR AGONY

"Strike at Root of Trouble," Says Man Who Spent Years Perfecting Treatment Which Rids Humanity of Pile Pains and Suffering

The original method of treatment, adopted by the E. R. Page Company, proves conclusively the sound reasoning of those who discovered it. Thousands of sufferers throughout the nation have learned by dreadful experience that to actually be relieved of pains from piles forever, the condition or physical disorder of the tumors must be corrected. Piles constitute an organic condition, and because of this the logical treatment of pain and distress from piles is through this method; by striking at the seat of the trouble.

ORIGINATOR OF METHOD TELLS HOW IT WORKS

Combination Treatment Starts Vigorous Attack on Condition Causing Suffering

Any treatment, if it is to effectively combat that condition and end suffering forever, must be aimed to strike at the seat of the trouble. This is the contention of officials of the E. R. Page Company, who have originated a combination treatment, which results have proven to be very effective and thorough.

"We contend," said one of these officials, "that pile pains are manifestations—the symptoms, you might say—of a certain physical condition. If we are to successfully end pile suffering, it is necessary that we go further than merely to stop the pain only temporarily.

"We must combat the disorder. We must stop the pain and suffering by external and internal means. This has been done in many instances. It is on this basis that the combination treatment is founded.

"The combination treatment is made up of three parts. There is a tablet that helps the bowels to function properly. Poisons are eliminated by this means. Then, in addition, there are the tablets which, when taken internally, tend to correct the condition which is responsible for the beginning of piles. And lastly there is the soothing, cooling, relieving ointment which, when applied to the piles, seems to make pain vanish almost instantly.

"When it is considered that our treatment fights the condition so thoroughly, both internally and externally, it is no wonder that thousands of men and women who have been sufferers for years are finally relieved from pain and accompanying distress by this method.

"Because it is so thorough in its work and so efficiently cleanses the body of those things that create piles, much of the pile trouble is stopped. We are sure we have a wonderful treatment as hundreds and hundreds of people have written us."

Pains From Piles Quickly Yield to New Treatment

Enthusiasm for the benefits he derived from the treatment induced Curtis C. Oliver, of Forest City, Pa., to send a joyous letter of praise to the E. R. Page Co., Marshall, Michigan. His missive reads: "Your treatment accomplished wonders for me. I suffered with pains from piles for 25 years and one of your small treatments was all that I needed."

Piles Are Symptoms

Authorities know that piles themselves are but symptoms or indications of a physical disorder that must be corrected—if the piles are to be prevented.

The people responsible for the E. R. Page Internal Tablet Combination Treatment recognized this fact many years ago. They sought a type of treatment which would work internally. They have been exceedingly successful, as thousands of people who have been rid of suffering by this method will testify.

The E. R. Page Company, each day, is swamped with letters from all parts of North America; these letters are from former afflicted persons who thank them for not only complete relief from suffering but express sincere, heartfelt thanks for this freedom. There are more than 53,000 of similar letters in the files of the company today.

This Method Successful

The success of this internal treatment can be attributed to its being founded upon medical facts. There is no guesswork about it, as the fact that it accomplishes all that is claimed for it clearly demonstrates. The method has been worked out with great care and study—each part of the treatment has a specific thing to accomplish.

The bowel regulator—just a small tablet—puts the system in good order, so that it can readily combat the pains which result in the intense suffering. The tablets are pleasant tasting and were originated to abort the condition which is responsible for the appearance of the piles themselves. That it does its work is attested to by the thousands of letters received from people who have been rid of pains from piles by this method.

Carefully Planned

To relieve the pain and suffering while the internal tablets are doing their part, a pleasing ointment has been created. This ointment has been packed so that all the obnoxious, objectionable features of application are avoided. It frequently stops the pain almost at once. People who credit the Page Treatment with having relieved them forever call it "the magical ointment."

The combination treatment leaves nothing undone. It strikes directly at the root of the condition giving immediate relief from suffering in most instances. It goes even further, for thousands will testify that it stopped their agony and distress for all time.

It usually stops pain almost at once and even after the suffering ends—the internal tablets are waging their war against the things that cause piles.

Huge Sum Used to Demonstrate Merit of This New Scientific Combination Method

A decided departure from the usual promotional custom of business concerns has been inaugurated by the E. R. Page Co., of Marshall, Michigan. This company has perfected a new scientific treatment for pile's painful distresses, the success of which has been instantaneous, as letters received from thousands of former sufferers confirm.

At a recent meeting of the directorate, a policy was adopted that would place this remarkable treatment in the hands of sufferers everywhere without the slightest risk or expense. In a formal statement issued by the company, when this measure was voted upon and passed, may be seen the reason for this unusual move.

A Novel Policy

"Many concerns," the statement reads, "spend thousands of dollars annually to advertise their products to the public. For the most part, these products must be bought and paid for 'on faith.' If the purchaser is dissatisfied, it is often optional with the seller as to whether he will give the customer the satisfaction to which he is entitled.

"The idea of this company is to keep our advertising down to the very minimum that will give our product sufficient publicity. We prefer to give our patrons the benefits of this expenditure. Therefore, we agree to send every person afflicted with piles a trial package of our new Page Internal Tablet Combination Treatment. This package costs the sufferer nothing. But we feel that the money used to introduce our product is well spent —that it proves our good faith with sufferers in not asking them to spend one cent until they have demonstrated the merits of the Page method to their own complete satisfaction."

Merit Justifies Plan

The Page Treatment is based on purely scientific facts that are common knowledge in professional circles. These facts prove that piles in themselves are not a cause but an effect—the natural indication of other trouble inside.

Science has also determined what the real cause of pile pains is, and this new method, employing internal tablets in combination with a bowel regulator and a soothing ointment for external application, has clearly demonstrated its ability to remove in many instances the pain and anguish from piles. Once this is accomplished, it is only natural that the sufferer will have reason for rejoicing.

SCIENCE FINDS WAY TO TREAT PILE PAINS

Treatment Corrects Conditions That Cause Trouble—Then All Pain Ends

"There is nothing mysterious or magical about our combination treatment," says an official of the Page Company. "It is just a logical campaign directed against the painful results of piles and those things which cause them. This campaign is directed both internally and externally. Not only are the pile pains relieved quickly in most instances but when properly treated they do not return."

The treatment being discussed was the Page Internal Tablet Combination Treatment, which has so successfully rid thousands of pile suffering and agony. It consists of three medicines. There is a tablet which, when taken according to the directions, helps the body eliminate its poisons and prepares the system for the fight which is designed to do away with the pains and end the suffering. In addition to this tablet, there is, second, a pleasant tasting tablet which was originated by the Page Company chemists to wage its war against the disorder which results in the formation of piles.

To end the suffering and intense pain, while the two tablets are doing their work, a soothing, cooling, pleasant ointment has been included. This, when applied, seems usually to stop the pain at once. It has been prepared in such a way that everything obnoxious and unpleasant to its application is avoided and it can be applied with the greatest ease.

To the sufferer's surprise and delight, this system usually not only brings relief practically at once, but stops permanently the physical suffering which results from pile troubles.
